NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—Joe Meek is a Republican who is not running "scared"—he's supremely confident that he'll win over Sen. Douglas in November.

That's an impression we received from an informal talk we had with the Republican candidate in an ante-room at the Masonic Temple last night. Joe was reclining on a sofa—but Joe wasn't resting. He was glancing at speech notes, greeting local Republican leaders, chatting with press representatives, and doing everything a man doesn't do when he's supposed to rest.

He had been through an arduous day beginning at Rock Island where he arose at 5:30 a. m. to tour some manufacturing plants.

"Boy, that was a terrific lift," he told us. "They told me that it was a political mistake to meet those workers. But I did it and the response was beautiful—they took it beautifully! I'll bet I shook hands with 600 or 700 of those guys. It was the biggest thrill of the campaign so far."

What about the main campaign issue—what was shaping up as the key vote-getting theme?

"Peace!" replied Joe, almost erupting with enthusiasm. It's peace—and don't you forget it. You know the other night at the end of a speech, I called for a moment of silence. When the crowd quieted, I asked them, 'Do you hear the booming of guns?' It was tremendously effective."

He continued: "You know the economic issue is overrated in this campaign. Sure, there's been a slump here and there, but a farmer is less concerned with a dip in farm price if the shooting has stopped; and the housewives—the mothers—are willing to get along with a little less overtime pay if she knows that the next phone call will not be word from the defense department telling her that a son is a casualty."

Just then, Congressman Leo Allen joined us. "You know, Joe," he said facetiously, "there's only 26 weeks left in the campaign." He chuckled.

Joe gave him a tired smile. "Hya, Leo. You know if it goes, I'd not be around at the finish. You know, Leo I got up at 5:30 this morning . . ." And he launched into the high spots of the day.

That's a thumbnail sketch of Joe Meek, an indefatigable campaigner, a restless vote-getter, a surprisingly effective speaker, and most of all, supremely confident that he has the issues to win.

He was off then to greet more photographers, more politicians, more Dixon friends. He was bouncy, almost jubilant at the outpouring of local Republicans. He's not a meek man, this Meek!

Name Two Committees Study Sites, Franchise

AMBOY—(Special)—About 40 Lee county residents Wednesday night took the first step toward expanding the annual county 4-H livestock show into a junior livestock show open to all county youths less than 21 years of age.

Farm Adviser James T. Somers presided over the meeting which included representatives of the Farm Bureau and Dixon Chamber of Commerce and farmers and businessmen from all sections of the county. The meeting was held in the Farm Bureau building.

After a discussion of the future of the show, Somers called for a show of hands to determine which course was favored—continuing the 4-H show as in the past, expanding it to a junior show or planning for a full-fledged county fair.

Favor Junior Show

More than 20 persons favored the junior show; about a half-dozen voted for a county fair, and no one indicated he wanted the 4-H show continued as in the past.

W. E. Beamblossom, Dixon, chairman of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee, summed up the feelings of many when he said the goal was an agricultural show "where the whole county can get together in the best interest of the youth of the county."

Dixon Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Ralph M. Richie and Beamblossom pledged continued chamber support for an agricultural show. The chamber has subsidized the show the past three years in Dixon.

Long-Term Lease

The 1954 show was held on a field near the Borden plant and Ken Gerdes, field man for the company, indicated the field would be available on a long-term basis if the group wanted permanent buildings constructed. He said the New York office of the company would have to approve any lease for the land.

The group instructed Somers to appoint committees to investigate two phases of the proposed junior show. The first will study possible sites and their costs. The second will meet with a committee of the Franklin Grove Fair Association to determine what plans are being considered for the state grant of money given the Franklin Grove Fair under a franchise. The fair

Hutchinson Quits as Tiger Boss

DETROIT (AP)—Fred Hutchinson resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers of the American League.

Hutchinson's resignation, which came amid rumors he might be the next manager of the Baltimore Orioles, came after the Tigers' board of directors voted to turn down his demand for a two year contract.

He was offered a one-year contract.

Notified of the board's decision, Hutchinson said he was turning down the offer "for personal reasons." Tiger President Walter O. (Spike) Briggs said, "We are in the process of investigating Hutchinson's successor and hope to have something by Friday."

Briggs could offer no reason for Hutchinson's resignation.

"If the Tigers finished fourth or better next season, another year's contract would be automatic," Briggs said. "We didn't even get as far as salary."

DHS Guidance Man to Meeting

Albert H. Krieger, guidance director of Dixon public schools, will attend the annual meeting of the Illinois Guidance and Personnel Association at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Friday and Saturday.

STATE SUPT. OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION VERNON NICKELL, left, shown conversing with State's Atty. and Mrs. James Bales before the Republican rally here last night. Nickell later pledged continued aid to local school boards in an effort to solve pressing school housing and teaching problems.

Meek Raps Douglas at Big Lee County Rally

400 Hear Candidate At Dinner

Nov. 2 "Day of Destiny," Meek Tells Audience

Joseph E. Meek, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, last night delivered a slashing attack on his Democratic opponent, Sen. Paul Douglas, and called upon Lee county voters to support the "way of free men" in the Nov. 2 balloting.

Sometimes referring to Sen. Douglas as the "socialist Senator" and "the professor," Meek told an audience of 400 in the Dixon, Masonic Temple, that Nov. 2 is a "day of destiny" for free government.

"This is it," he said. "Our way is the slow way, the tough way, the undramatic way, but it is the way of free men."

Meek's speech possibly was one of the most bitter attacks he has launched at his Democratic opponent.

Should Be Awakened

The Republican candidate explained that it was probably politically unwise to mention one's opponent by name during a campaign, but that he was naming Sen. Douglas because he felt the voters should be awakened to his philosophies.

"I am frightened by his social-introduced Warren Wright, canism," Meek declared. "I am frightened by a man who writes a book 'The Coming of the New Party,' and then dedicates it to a Socialist, Norman Thomas."

He continues, "I am frightened by this prophet of gloom and doom. His prophecies may be proper as a professor on the Midway, but not as a United States senator."

Meek's appearance here was sponsored by the Lee county Republican central committee. He was introduced by State Rep. Charles Willett, Dixon, who also introduced Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer, Vern Nickell, GOP candidate for superintendent of public instruction; Cong. Leo Allen, Galena, and other local candidates and dignitaries.

Praises Ike

Meek several times during his address, praised the Eisenhower administration and told the assemblage that it was their duty to elect a Republican congress to further the president's program.

He also warned them not to be fooled by recent Democratic claims that the Democrats would be the only ones to support the president.

Failure to elect a Republican congress might spell the end of the two-party government, Meek asserted.

"It would mean the election of the Humphreys, the Douglasses, and the Morges—all that is unholy in my book," he declared.

Meek also charged his opponent is destroying faith in our economy by his prediction of an economic depression.

"That is an attack on faith—faith in our economic system. It's built on faith. That is all we have is faith," Meek said.

He also asserted that Douglas' "gloom and doom" prophecies were "the greatest political mistake a man has made in a political campaign."

Earlier in referring to Douglas, Meek declared that "Mr. Douglas was the only available merchandise" of the Democratic party "but he certainly is not salable."

"LITTLE MISS VICTORY," a toy, stuffed elephant, is being fondly handled by Joseph T. Meek, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, before he began his speech at a Republican rally here last night. Given to him by a Cook county woman supporter, "Miss Victory" accompanies Meek to every campaign rally.

Quiz Salesman In Boy's Death

Iowa Detective Believes He Has 'the Right Man'

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP)—A Sioux City detective said today, "I think we have the right man" in the abduction-slaying of 8-year-old Jimmie Bremmer.

Truck Drivers Strike; Tie Up Cook Building

CHICAGO (AP)—Nine hundred fifty AFL building material and lumber truck drivers struck early today, halting deliveries in Cook County.

The four striking locals are members of the AFL Lumber and Mill Workers of America, International Brotherhood of Teamsters. The walkout was called when negotiations on a new contract broke down Wednesday.

Frederick W. Turner Jr., attorney for the Lumber Trades Assn. of Cook County, representing 95 per cent of the dealers, predicted that most of the construction work in the county would be halted within four days.

John F. Ryan, president of one of the striking locals, estimated that other lumber yards workers would respect picket lines and remain off their jobs.

The drivers, currently getting $2.06½ cents an hour, demanded a 13½ cent-an-hour wage boost, three weeks of paid vacation after a dozen years of service, and an 18-month contract. Dealers offered a 10-cent hourly pay increase, but no extension of vacations. The old contract expired Sept. 17.

The dealers association claims a membership of 115 lumber companies and 40 mill work companies.

Detective Lt. Harry J. Gibbons identified the man as an itinerant salesman previously questioned at length in the case. No charge has been filed.

The salesman, described by Police Chief James O'Keefe as "psychotic as well as homosexual," steadfastly denies any knowledge of Jimmie's death.

"I think he knows a lot more than he's telling," Gibbons said.

The man has admitted talking to the boy on Aug. 31, the night he disappeared from near his home here. Police decline to name the man.

The month long search for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bremmer ended Wednesday in a pasture only four miles from the lad's home. Three highway maintenance men found the mutilated body.

The salesman returned Wednesday afternoon from nearby Cherokee State Mental Health Institute, was taken to the scene where Jimmie's body was found before undergoing hours of questioning. He had entered the institute as a voluntary patient to take psychiatric treatment.

Dr. Thomas L. Cordien, county coroner, said the boy's head was crushed by one or more blows. No weapon was found.

Set Curbs On German Rearming

Responsibility for Controls Divided Between 2 Powers

LONDON (AP)—A German spokesman announced today the nine-power conference on freeing and rearming Germany has approved a compromise plan for establishing and controlling a European arms pool.

The plan, put forward by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, would divide responsibility for safeguards on runaway German rearmament between a new seven-nation European alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Previously, France had insisted on the seven-nation authority exercising controls while West Germany—with British and American backing—held out for NATO supervision.

Germans Approve

The German spokesman told newsmen the Spaak compromise "met with the approval of Dr. (German chancellor Konrad) Adenauer and (French Premier Pierre) Mendes-France and was also acceptable to the other delegations." He described the Spaak memorandum put before the conference today as "excellent."

An air of elation and optimism surrounded Lancaster House, where the momentous conference is being held, over chances of an agreement to put German divisions in the line against Communist aggression.

Hopes soared as a result of the pledge by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden Wednesday that British troops and air forces will be kept on the European mainland indefinitely if the conference succeeds.

A good welcome was also given U. S. Secretary of State Dulles' pledge to maintain troops in Europe if a rearmed Germany was brought into the Atlantic alliance.

Dulles, Eden, Adenauer and Mendes-France arranged to get together late today to talk over the issue of granting West Germany complete sovereignty.

Adenauer predicted the delegates would finish their task tonight. Others, notably the French, thought the details would take somewhat longer to work out.

Dave Murphy Cited for Saving Boy

David L. Murphy, 18, 503 E. Everett St., Dixon, son of Mrs. David L. Murphy, Sr., and the late Dr. D. L. Murphy, was awarded the American Red Cross "Award of Merit" for saving the life of a Sterling boy last July.

Murphy is only the 76th Illinois resident to receive this highest Red Cross award, according to Katherine Boyd, water safety chairman of the Dixon Red Cross chapter.

The award, which will be presented to Murphy when he returns for the Christmas holiday from attending Notre Dame University, cites him for saving the life of Dennis McGinn, 4½, at the Lowell Park beach, Dixon.

According to the citation, Murphy was lifeguard when the boy's body was brought to shore. Murphy revived the boy after five minutes of artificial respiration only to have the boy go into a convulsion and stop breathing 10 minutes later.

Murphy again revived the boy and cared for him until a doctor arrived. The award was approved by the national Red Cross awards committee after reviewing eyewitness accounts and a physician's statements.

Dirksen Says McCarthy Due Great Credit

QUINCY, Mass. (U-P) — Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) thinks Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is due "everlasting credit" for his actions in fighting communism.

Dirksen spoke Wednesday before 250 Republican women at the fall conference of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Organizations.

Dirksen, a member of the McCarthy subcommittee, said:

"To the everlasting credit of Joe McCarthy I don't know of any one man who would stand the constant harassment—I wouldn't—of people with interests in a different kind of America than what he wants.

"To question after question these interests would refuse to answer on the grounds that it would incriminate them. That is frustrating business. It is easy for a temper to be touched off.

"No other technique would have alerted the country as he (McCarthy) has done. I've seen them all, the Judith Coplons, the Rosenbergs, the Alger Hisses. They were in a position to despoil this country because their sympathies were to some alien ideology."

Heart Murmurs a Concern For Parents and Doctors

The problem of murmurs of the heart is complex and varied, concerning both the physician and the parent. For example, when a child appears blue or is short of breath, or has so-called edema or dropsy, the symptoms are almost sufficient to establish definitely that a child has a form of heart disease, calling for suitable treatment. However, when a child has been seemingly well, and appears pale or tired, examination will sometimes reveal a murmur of the heart, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in Health Talk.

Occasionally a murmur is also heard in a newborn infant. Because various murmurs may or may not indicate an abnormality of the heart, or because they may be completely harmless, many questions enter the physician's mind in establishing an exact diagnosis.

To detect the variations in heart sounds, the physician uses the instrument called a stethoscope.

A Pumping System

The pumping system of the body is generated by the heart, which is made up of four chambers. However, the blood is pumped in one direction of flow only, and this is controlled by valves. In the process the blood is pumped out into the arteries leading to all parts of the body in the circulating blood which in turn, carries oxygen to nourish the body. After the blood circulates, it is returned to the heart through the veins.

Thus sounds of the heart occur in the opening and closing of the valves in their normal function. Any condition that develops within the heart and its structure, resulting in a narrowing of the valves, for example, produces different sounds or murmurs which are interpreted by the physicians.

One type of murmur, the so-called functional or unimportant murmur, places no extra strain on the heart, and the regular heart action is not interfered with. These functional murmurs are common in children and, in many instances, disappear later in the child's life, leaving no sign they ever existed.

Then there is the congenital heart abnormality with which infants are born. For some reason in development, the heart fails to develop normally, causing an interference in circulation. Such an example is the "blue baby." There is shortness of breath and the blueness is caused when the blood is not circulating sufficiently through the lungs. The abnormality produces greater strain on the heart. With modern surgical advances, these heart abnormalities can be corrected.

Why these abnormalities occur is not known, except that the parents are not at fault. They are simply accidents in development.

The Dixon Evening Telegraph

Another type of heart murmur occurs in rheumatic fever. Usually the murmur is pronounced and the heart rate is rapid. In this condition, the heart muscle is inflamed, dilates, becomes much larger, all of which impairs the pumping efficiency of the heart itself. In rheumatic fever, however, prevention of recurrence is the goal, since it is the repeated attacks that lead to stenosis or narrowing of the heart valves.

Thus a murmur of the heart can mean many things and often nothing. In most instances, it is now possible to identify those which are a sign of some abnormality. Many of these can be corrected or controlled. Even if heart damage has occurred the child with help and understanding will lead a relatively normal life.

Back in Navy

NEWARK, N.J. (U-P) — William E. Moyes first joined the Navy at 17—and now he is doing it again at 57. The boatsman's mate has enlisted every time war was approaching and has served with the Navy in both world wars and the Korean conflict.

Moyes spent only two years in peacetime service and conducted a successful roofing business in the 20s and 30s.

Walking Marathon

MIDLAND, Mich. (U-P) — When Dick Cook arrived home here he had walked 17,400 miles in 48 states—and was still short of his goal.

Before he finishes strolling around the country pulling his homemade home on wheels behind him he plans to cover 25,000 miles—equal to the distance around the earth at the equator.

Farmer Drenched With Gas, Dies; Mum on Assailant

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (U-P) — A farmer has died of burns in Phoenixville hospital without identifying the man he said drenched him with gasoline.

Semon Bojeck, a Ukrainian who came to the United States in 1949, had told authorities he would name his assailant only when certain he would die.

But even though told Wednesday that the end was near, he kept his lips sealed.

Bojeck, with some help from interpreters, told state police he was alone in his home last Saturday when a man entered and threw a container of gasoline at him.

The gasoline was set afire by a cigarette Bojeck was smoking.

The Comic Book Story

The American comic-book business seems to have learned a lesson in the power of public opinion.

A newly created trade group which includes most of the industry has taken steps toward banning offensive comic books.

Under a code of ethics every book will be read by reviewers. All "terror" and "horror" books will be refused approval. Books which pass inspection will be marked with a seal so that parents can know at a glance which books are safe to buy.

With all the talk about this development, it deserves to be put in perspective.

In the first place it should be noted that all but a very few comic-book publishers are innocent bystanders in the situation. They have never published anything but wholesome material. They have deplored the excesses of the offending publishers. They should not be tarred by too vigorous a brush.

Then, too, it should be pardonable if newspapers, as the granddads of the comic cartoon, point out the character of their branch of the family.

Your newspaper is now doing, and has always done, a good clean job of entertaining and policing itself. All these years, with good taste and judgment.

There are many safeguards. The newspaper comics are produced by organizations with a sense of responsibility and are reviewed finally, right in each community by the newspaper editors themselves who are the ones who decide what to print and what not to print.

Smacking down a few merchants of viciousness in the comic-book field still leaves unresolved one of the major tasks facing a democracy built with the keystones of free speech and a free press. There are those at one extreme who feel you cannot have "a little censorship." It fills them with dread of a growth toward Hitler-type book burnings. At the other extreme are those who fear, equally, a contagion from poisonous words which would fill the nation with a soul-sick and misled citizenry.

This debate will go on and on while we, as a democracy, struggle to hammer out workable rules for our own welfare.

At least, in the area of mass reading for juveniles, it would appear that public opinion has forced a restraint. If the publishers of comic books can't see what is acceptable good taste they will be made to conform.

It spotlights a basic principle which can stand repeating that the right kind of censorship is that of public opinion.

If people find something offensive it is their right and duty to withdraw support from it. Soon, as occurred in the comic book case, the public's refusal is certain to bring results.

Old Look, New Look, Both Make Designers Shudder

It's bad enough that the fashion designers tell us women what to start wearing and when to stop wearing it fast fads on us that shouldn't happen to a woman.

But when, like sheep, the last one of us has been led to slaughter, to add insult to injury, the fashion bigshots, themselves, start shuddering at the way we look.

When they told us that haircut that looks mussed when it is combed and resembles nothing so much as the head of a twelve-year-old boy who went off to camp with a neat crew cut and came home two months later without ever having seen a barber—they called it all sorts of intriguing names.

FADS SHORT-LIVED

Now that the world is full of women whose crowning glory looks — according to most men — as though it had got caught in a power lawn mower the hair stylists have begun to shudder. The little-boy-who-needs-a-haircut look will be out by fall, they tell us. And in making their prediction they sneer at the very style they worked so hard to sell us.

And, ladies, that is just what is going to happen if we go for the caved-in look they sold us once way back in the Twenties.

Just as soon as we've tossed out all those pretty full-skirted dresses with nipped-in waists that make women look like girls and girls look like girls and sell us those horrors reminiscent of the Twenties, the sneer won't be far away.

Just about the time we get used to looking long-waisted and flat-chested — the fashion designers will start to snigger.

And then we'll be in for another new look. But there's one hopeful thing about it all. Whatever the new look beyond the new look is, it

In Hollywood

By
JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA)—Exclusively Yours. There are worry frowns on the faces of some Hollywood career quarterbacks about Bob Hope's choice of the Eddie Foy story as a movie, but Skinnose has a smug "wait and see" look about the whole thing.

Eddie and his seven children were a star family vaudeville act — "Eddie Foy and the Seven Little Foyes" — and there was a strange mixture of drama and comedy in their lives and careers.

Hollywood's arguing "Should Hope be doing another backstage vaudeville story so soon after Here Come the Girls and in the midst of vaudeville type television shows?"

Hope's answer to me:

"This is different from anything I've ever done. It's not the conventional backstage story. There was only one guy like Eddie Foy. The story has heart and tears. You can't make those boy-chases-girl, girl-chases-boy, fell-on-some-jokes-and-crash — they're married films any more. That's why I'm thrilled about this."

A FELLOW NAMED as the "other man" in a Hollywood divorce announcement telephoned the office of a newspaper wire service the other day and asked for the head man. The reporter who took the call recognized his name and when he summoned the boss to the phone he whispered:

"Handle him with care, boss, he sounds mad."

The fellow wasn't mad — just disturbed.

"It's just a small thing really," he complained. "Your story was wrong. I'm an ACTOR. Not, as your story said, a student."

Is Edgar Bergen headed for politics?

No, but some people must think he is because of his new Washington, D. C. radio show with capital city guests. The letters are pouring in like this one:

"Don't waste Charlie's time talking with Washington bias. If you are trying to get into politics, Bergen, use some other way."

It's a private chuckle for Bergen who has no intention of switching careers. He wrote me from Washington "We go along for years and then I change the program and suddenly the mail pours in. 'What are you trying to do?'"

Edgar on his occasional TV emoting this season minus Charlie McCarthy following his chick as Sir Boss on "A Connecticut Yankee."

"I'm glad this has happened because it is difficult for a ventriloquist to get action in live TV. Then, too, there has been so much puppetry of all kinds on TV that I almost feel that less would be more."

END OF MARRIAGE, Hollywood style. French film cutie Martine Carroll, separated for several years from hubby Steve Crane, phoned him from Paris at his Luau restaurant in Beverly Hills. The conversation:

MARTINE: "Hello, darling. I've got news for you. I've divorced you. And I'm getting married again Tuesday."

STEVE: Well congratulations.

The Doctor Says:

Don't Take Tonsils and Adenoids Diseases Lightly

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.

The removal of tonsils and adenoids is probably performed more often than any other operation. Nevertheless it is not a procedure to be entered into lightly and certainly many of us can keep our tonsils and adenoids all through life without causing any harm.

The tonsils are small nodes or lumps lying in the back of the throat made up of lymphoid tissue. The exact function of any of this lymphoid tissue is uncertain though it is possible that it may trap and perhaps destroy germs entering the body as one breathes in air.

Possibly this view of the function of the tonsils may change but up to recently at least they have not been considered to be of much value to the body and beyond doubt they can often be removed without any sense of loss.

THERE ARE A number of reasons which have been advanced for not taking the tonsils out. Removal of the tonsils is therefore advised against in the presence of tuberculosis of the lungs, severe diabetes, several kinds of blood diseases and when the tonsils themselves are acutely inflamed. Most physicians also feel that they should not be removed at the time when polio is frequent in the immediate community. There are some other reasons for not taking the tonsils out.

THE REASONS FOR taking out tonsils are not always so clear-cut. Frequent attacks of acute tonsillitis is one. Difficulty in swallowing, breathing, or talking caused by enlarged tonsils is another. Catarrh or other infections of the middle ear is usually reason enough to remove them also.

Also, if there is cause to believe that chronic infection of the tonsils is causing Bright's disease, arthritis, or other difficulties elsewhere in the body they are better out.

THE ADENOIDS are made up of tissue much like that of the tonsils. This tissue lies in the back part of the nose. The adenoids, like the tonsils may harbor germs and cause chronic infection. In children particularly, they may be large enough to interfere with breathing through the nose — most mouth breathers have enlarged adenoids.

Definitely diseased tonsils and adenoids should be removed surgically. There are sometimes treated with X-ray by coagulation with an electric needle, or by radium (in the case of the adenoids), but the majority of leading specialists feel that these methods are usually not as satisfactory as surgical removal.

THERE'S MORE DOUGH AROUND—Personal income during the second quarter of 1954 was at an annual rate slightly lower than the peak 1953 figure. However, due to the recent reduction in individual income tax, disposable income (the money people have to save or spend) has kept climbing during the past two years. Disposable income is now some $252.6 billion, highest in U. S. history. It has increased almost 60 per cent since 1938. Pie chart shows personal income by source for first six months of 1954. LITCHFIELD, CONN., Sept. 29—Continuing yesterday's essay on the Hall-Mills murder case, after the failure of the seance with a female reporter disguised as "Madam Astra," Phil Payne, the wild editorial genius of the New York Daily News, thought it best to let Jimmy Mills stew in his juices a few weeks. Mr. Mills, rebel of the pietistic lady who was murdered with the Rev. Edward G. Hall, dominie of a wealthy congregation at New Brunswick, N. J., had been enticed into a railroad flat in New York to hear a message from "the spirits." He had come up from New Brunswick in the company of another young lady reporter on Payne's staff whose by-line was "investigator." It was, to be frank, a dark plot.

Ellis Parker, a Quaker detective of national renown, sat behind the heavy velvet backdrop just back of Madam Astra's gilt musical comedy throne. A court reporter sat by him, but the next day when Jimmy recounted the colloquy to Mr. Parker at his study in Mount Holly, N. J., his version disagreed fundamentally with the transcript in Parker's drawer. During the seance, Madam Astra had urged the skinny little widow man to "go to your friend and confide in him." She had described the friend in terms which unmistakably meant Parker.

Jimmy Mills had met Parker several times during the wild investigation of the Hall-Mills murder case and now recognized him by Madam Astra's description. Parker had gone out of his way several times to cultivate Jimmy. He had flattered him with compliments on his cleverness in dealing with the county detectives and the suave slickers from the New York city papers. Parker told Mills he was as determined to send a rich and haughty aristocrat to the chair at Tien-ton vindicating the principle of class less justice. That was why, on the morning after the seance in New York, Jimmy told "Investigator" of his intention to go right to Parker. But the interview with Parker at Mount Holly washed out and Phil Payne put the Hall-Mills case in his future book.

A month later, Payne summoned "Investigator" and called in Otto Liveright, an author's agent who was in domestic life the husband of Madam Astra. She was one of

"You know something," said the new G.I., "you LOOK like a soldier."

SHORT TAKES: There was many a blush around town when Sam Goldwyn signed Vivian Blaine to recreate her Miss Adelaide role in the film version of "Guys and Dolls." Despite her Broadway hit in the show, movie makers overlooked talented Vivian for many a film. It's a hurrah from this corner that she's returning to the screen.

Ozzie Nelson, about the mental beating and career risks stars take on hectic live TV:

"They remind me of something my high school football coach said: 'Anybody who doesn't wear a head guard doesn't need one.'"

Stanley Kramer has wisely changed the weak ending that Norton Thompson tacked on his best-seller, "Not As a Stranger" in its screen translation. The film co-starring Bob Mitchum and Olivia de Havilland, will have Dr. Lucas performing heart surgery, making a fatal error and coming to the conclusion that no human being is perfect.

Many Attend First Baptist Family Night

The church hostesses of the First Baptist church, under the supervision of Mrs. Ira Leggett, held a family night supper recently in the church parlors. Nearly 70 were present.

"India" was used as a theme and carried out in the menu, decorations and program. Mrs. Wilford Miller was program chairman.

The table and floral decorations were beautifully done in orange and green by Miss Ruth Brown.

Rev. Arthur A. Vinz opened the Family Night with grace, preceding the evening meal. Mrs. Vinz led in a community sing.

Mrs. Kenneth Green gave an explanation of the Woman's Fellowship love gift and also gave a devotional summary.

"One Fold and One Shepherd," a play, was presented by Mrs. J. H. Baker, Mrs. Martin Branch, Mrs. Ben Rippeon, Mrs. Elton Scholl, Jean Sitter, Barbara Maloney, Janice Rutherford and Elinor Scholl. Mrs. Clarence Bush was director for the play which featured a Christian training school scene with the conversion of an Indian woman as the main character. Mrs. Gene Waldschlager brought the play to an inspiring climax with the solo, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." Mrs. Vinz was her piano accompanist.

Mrs. Charles Wallace, president of the Woman's Fellowship, closed the evening with a prayer.

NACHUSA HOME UNIT The Nachusa unit of Home Bureau will meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 5, in the home of Helen Spangler. The major lesson, "Understanding Our School Laws" and the minor lesson on low calorie desserts will be given by local leaders.

Florence Giese, Dr. H. E. Isaak Wed in Sterling

September Bride Wears Lace for Evening Nuptial

HARMON — Residing in Elk Point, South Dakota, where they have an apartment are newlyweds, Dr. and Mrs. Harvard E. Isaak. Mrs. Isaak is the former Florence Giese, daughter of Paul Giese and the late Bessie Giese, Harmon, Dr. Isaak's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Edward F. Isaak, are of Parkston, South Dakota.

Palms, seven branch candelabra and altar vases of flowers were used in decorating the West Jordan Lutheran Church, Sterling, for the Sept. 12, wedding. Rev. J. F. Eshbaugh officiated at the 7:30 p.m., double ring ceremony. Mrs. Erma Dicks, Sterling, was nuptial organist and Miss Gladys Miller, Freeport, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her gown of white. The dress was designed with a strapless bodice of lace, that had an inset of nylon tulle in front, and a lace scalloped redingote, floor length full gathered skirt worn over pleated nylon tulle. A tuxedo style Etan lace jacket was worn with the gown.

The bride's fingertip veil of nylon tulle and illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls. Her round style bouquet was of white roses encircled by pearls, arranged in scallops and with white streamers.

Sister, Maid of Honor Miss Marilyn Giese, Spokane, Wash., sister of the bride, maid of honor, donned a frock of gold colored satin. The strapless dress was worn with a matching bolero jacket and styled with a floor length, full net overskirt.

Miss Sylvia Starr and LaVonne Schubert, Freeport; Marilyn Akins, Warren and Elaine Isaak, Parkston, S. D., as bridesmaids, wore gowns similar to that worn by the maid of honor. Misses Isaak and Starr were in gold and Misses Akins and Schubert, emerald green.

The bride's attendants, wore headbands of tiny chrysanthemums and tubular velvet to match their gowns. Their cascade bouquets were of Fuji mums and pom poms and also matched their gowns.

Vernon Isaak, Burlington, Ia., served his brother as best man and the ushers were: Russell Tiede, Bridgewater, S. D.; Joe Stedronsky, Wagner, S. D.; Marilyn Isaak, Parkston, S. D. and Milton Schwerin, Chicago.

Child Attendants

Jane Giese, Sterling, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Lester Giese, Morrison, another cousin of the bride, ring bearer. Young Miss Giese wore a floor length frock of pale green satin. She scattered rose petals from a white basket, that was decorated with green ribbons. The ring bearer was dressed in dark trousers and a white jacket as were the other men in the wedding party.

The bride's stepmother wore a two piece dress of light gray. Her accessories were black and her corsage, pale pink gladioli. The bridegroom's mother wore pink accessories and a matching rose corsage with her navy blue dress.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Howard Fields, Morrison, aunt of the bride, served the cake; Mrs. Arden Fernstadt, Freeport, poured; Miss Betty Spragle, Freeport, served the punch; Mrs. Donald Ackerman, Freeport, had charge of the bride's book and Misses Donna Wyss, Freeport, and Velma Lempke, Sterling, took care of the gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pfundstein, the Howard Weidels and Warren Wolbers, Sterling, were in charge of the kitchen and of serving.

When the newlyweds departed for a western honeymoon, the bride was wearing a light blue suit with navy accessories.

Employed in Sterling

A 1950 alumnus of Park Falls high school, the bride graduated Sept. 3, from the Deaconess Hospital school of nursing, Freeport. Before entering nurses training she was employed in the office of the National Manufacturing Co., Sterling.

Dr. Isaak, a 1947 graduate of Parkston high school, received his associate degree in chemistry from South Dakota State college and his doctor's degree from National College of Chiropractic, Chicago, in January of this year. While at the South Dakota college he was active in band and chorus and played on the basketball team four years. His fraternity was Sigma Phi Kappa. At the present he is working with his uncle in a clinic in Elk Point.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from: Burlington, Ia.; Parkston, Wagner and Bridgewater, South Dakota, and Lena, Freeport, Chicago, Milledgeville, Morrison, Lanark, Geneseo, Coleta, Warren and Shannon, Ill.

Women who are housewives and mothers often capitulate to slacks and bluejeans because they're easy to get into. A wrap-around house-dress is a pretty change.

Bible Class of Methodist Church Hears Vacations

Twenty-two members of the Woman's Bible class of the First Methodist church enjoyed luncheon in the home of their president, Mrs. Franklin Sheely, Fourth av., recently. This first meeting of the season was called to order by the president and Mrs. E. J. Randall led devotions. Mrs. James Ketchin, treasurer, and Mrs. Floy Hollenbeck, secretary, gave their reports.

A most interesting afternoon was held as members reported on their vacations. Mrs. Vernon G. Mays told of a visit with her daughter in Boston, Mass. A main point of interest was a visit to the Longfellow home.

Mrs. Sydney Bloomquist told of a visit to Iowa and also about attending the World Council of churches in Evanston. She also reported on a fishing trip to Northern Wisconsin.

Mrs. R. L. Vest recounted a trip she and Mr. Vest enjoyed in the "Smokies."

Miss Irma Grose spoke of a conducted tour to the southland.

Miss Estella Anderson extended an invitation to the class for Oct. 22. At this time Miss Anderson and Mrs. C. C. Hintz will be hostesses at the Hintz home.

At Plum Hollow

This Saturday evening will be the first in a series of square dance parties at Plum Hollow. Members and their guests will be dancing to the music of the Ikens trio with Curtis Brickey as caller. The evening will begin at 9 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Saari, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoyle and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Yeast are on the committee for the event.

These parties will be held the first and third Saturdays of each month.

Practical Club Enjoys Breakfast

Mrs. Rowena Powell, Mrs. Jay Sipe and Mrs. Vernon Mays entertained Practical club members with a 9:30 o'clock breakfast Tuesday morning in the Colonial Inn, Grand Detour. The table was beautifully decorated with a large centerpiece of bright leaves and small chrysanthemums. Also on the table were two birthday cakes honoring Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Mays, both charter members of the club, also Mrs. D. G. Palmer. Encircling each cake were tiny white candles resting on a bright leaf.

Mrs. Sipe had charge of an interesting game with prizes for all. Mrs. George Holland conducted the business meeting.

Alma Belle Beery October 16, Bride Is Shower Honoree

Miss Alma Belle Beery, Oct. 16 bride-elect of William Law, was honored at a surprise kitchen shower Sept. 23, in the home of Mrs. Paul Hepper, 615 College av. Mrs. Clarence Ebel, Mrs. Bruce Beery and Mrs. Hepper were hostesses.

Games were played with prizes awarded to Miss Diane Tate, Mrs. Paul Hepper, Mrs. Harley Cortright, Mrs. Frank Metz and Miss Beery. The prizes were then given to the bride-elect.

The honoree's gifts were placed in a large box which represented a kitchen apron and was decorated in purple and white, her chosen colors. Crepe paper pockets of the box contained favorite recipes.

Purple and white streamers decorated the dining room with two white wedding bells suspended above a refreshment table. Centering the table was a cake, iced in white and encircled with huckleberry leaves and lavender gladioli.

Guests included: Mesdames Elmi Tate, Harley Cortright, Frank Fordham, Pete Provant, Frank Metz, Amos Beery, Paul Hepper and Robert Doty, also Miss Diane Tate. Unable to attend but sending gifts were: Marie Hohnstein, Mrs.

He quoted a downstate Democratic leader as saying, "We're giving up on the professor from the Midway. He simply won't sell."

Three Paths

Meek reached the highpoint of his address when he told his audience that there were three paths open to voters in November:

- 1—The way of war. "No man wants war."
- 2—Bureaucratic way—The controlled way.
- 3—The way of free men, the path the speaker said he will take if elected to the senate.

Earlier the audience heard Cong. Leo Allen, Galena, chairman of the house rules committee, blast a Democratic claim that recent tax reductions benefitted only the rich. He claimed that the $7.4 billion tax reductions were widely distributed.

Allen also praised Secretary Ezra Benson for forthrightly meeting the problems of farm commodity surpluses.

Warren Wright, Park Ridge candidate for state treasurer, related his previous record in that office and told the Republican gathering that he was running on that record.

Vernon Nickell, veteran superintendent of public instruction, who is seeking reelection, also pointed to his record as "an advisor" to the school governments in the state.

Tells Beliefs

He also advocated the teaching of the doctrine of communism in our public schools as a means of informing our youth of its dangers.

But he emphatically declared that teachers "who have something to hide," those who hide "behind the Fifth Amendment" did not belong in our school systems.

Among others introduced last night included, Mayor William Stohower, Dixon; Mrs. Mabel S. Shaw, publisher of the Dixon Evening Telegraph; State's Atty. James Bales; John Shaulis, circuit clerk; Robert Preston, county coroner; County Judge Grover Gehant; Sterling D. Schrock, county clerk; Albert Hillison, county treasurer; John Stouffer, sheriff; Stanley Guyer, Rockford, Republican State Senator; Committee Chairman, State Senator Dennis Collins, DeKalb; Rep. George Brydia, Prophetstown; and the various members of the Lee County Republican Central Committee.

After the Dixon meeting, the G-O-P campaign caravan moved to Oregon where Meek, Wright and Nickell spoke to about 200 persons at a rally in the circuit courtroom in the courthouse.

During his speech, Meek said he had addressed union workers in Rock Island earlier in the day, and he charged that socialism and trade unionism do not mix. He said Douglas is leading union workers down a false path.

During the introduction of county GOP candidates, Charles Allen, Rochelle, the nominee for Ogile sheriff, made what observers termed an unusual move when he announced that if he is elected, he will name Ed Lang, 34, Polo, to be chief deputy. The observers said most candidates have not announced deputies until after election.

Lang is a World War II veteran, and has worked the past year in the Secretary of State's office in Springfield. He is the grandson of a former sheriff, Sam Good.

HERE IS A GLIMPSE of the crowd emerging from the $10-a-plate dinner given in the Masonic Temple, Dixon, in honor of Joe Meek, Republican candidate for U. S. senator. Approximately 400 heard Meek blast Sen. Paul Douglas as the "Socialist Senator." Meek (shown in circle) is greeting his constituents.

U. S. Frowns On Merger of Steel Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brown, announced today the Justice Department's antitrust division has disapproved a proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

The attorney general said that Bethlehem and Youngstown rank second and sixth among "fully integrated" steel companies and that there is substantial competition between them in a number of products.

He said his department, which was consulted by the companies about their projected consolidation, had also considered the policy, as expressed in the Clayton Act, of "arresting trends toward concentration in an industry."

The department announcement noted that Bethlehem's assets total more than $1,782,000,000 and Youngstown's $1,100,000,000.

County Farmer Files $1,500 Damage Claim

Wiley Shippert, Rt. 4, Dixon, Wednesday filed a $1,800 damage suit against Christopher J. Fuchs, Ames, Ia., in the Lee County Circuit Clerk's office.

Shippert charges Fuchs with causing a car-truck accident July 9 on Rt. 30 and one-half miles east of the Rt. 26 junction which resulted in extensive damage to the tractor Shippert was driving and to the combine he was pulling.

He included a request for compensation for loss of service of the combine in his suit.

According to Shippert's complaint, Fuchs attempted to pass his tractor and combine going east on Rt. 30 when he met a car traveling west. Rather than hit the car head-on, Fuchs cut back into Shippert's tractor and combine.

Polio Rate Shows Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—New polio cases last week dropped about 12 per cent from the year's weekly high in the preceding week.

The Public Health Service reported today there were 2,344 cases last week against 2,678 in the previous week. In the comparable week last year there were 1,853 cases.

Last week's cases pushed this year's total number to 26,347, less than 100 below the 26,444 recorded up to this time in 1953.

However, the total is still far below the 38,982 cases listed for the corresponding period in 1952.

Mendota Man Files Damage Counter Suit

George M. Reed, Mendota, today filed a counter-claim for $1,500 against L. B. Coppemall, Shannan, in Lee County Circuit Clerk's office. The Shannan man had previously filed a $5,000 damage claim against Reed.

Reed's counter-claim charges Coppemall was the cause of an automobile accident Dec. 18, 1953, one and one-half miles south of Dixon on Rt. 52 and denies he was going at excessive speed as the original suit filed by Coppemall charges.

Coppemall requested a trial by jury in his suit and asks for compensation for injuries sustained in the shoulders and chest, damage to his car, and loss of time and services because of the injuries and damage.

Reed, who was driving a pick-up truck north on Rt. 52, charges that Coppemall pulled across the center lane heading south and was cause of the accident. Reed asks for $1,000 for injuries to the head and shoulders and loss of time and an additional $500 for damage to his truck.

Ask $42,000 Damages in Fatal Crash

A four-count, $42,000 damage suit was filed today in the Lee County circuit clerk's office by Andrew Ventler, Ashton, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Esther Cluts, Franklin Grove, against Glenn Huff, Rochelle.

The suit is a result of an automobile accident March 27 in which Mrs. Cluts was fatally injured. The accident occurred on the morning of March 27 about three miles west of Franklin Grove on Alt. Rt. 30.

The suit charges Huff with negligence in operating his car. Ventler asks for a jury trial in his suit.

Mrs. Cluts, formerly of Franklin Grove, was a music teacher in Dixon and in Franklin Grove.

Fights Lead To $10 Fines

Two men paid fines of $10 and costs Tuesday evening after pleading guilty to Justice of the Peace Lawrence E. Boos on charges of fighting.

Plenn Palmer, Natchua, was arrested in his mother's home in Natchua by Officers Robert McCoy and Ernest Smallwood after allegedly fighting with his mother. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

Cornell Pratt, 28, 1304 Galena Ave., Dixon, was arrested by Officers Glen Camery and A. R. Wilson on Galena Avenue and Second Street and charged with assault and battery on a complaint signed by Joe Lukas, 210 West Third St., Dixon.

Lukas said Pratt assaulted him at 116 East Fourth Street. Lukas said he was with Pratt's ex-wife at the time of the trouble.

Issued License

County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock today issued a marriage license to Bernice A. Grobe, 18 Dixon, and Lavonne C. Reynolds, 23, Ames.

Brother Dies

Edward R. Miller, 39, brother of Mrs. Elmer Berger, 923 East Fellows St., Dixon, died Saturday morning of cancer in the Columbia City, Ind., hospital.

Miller, who lived in Huntington Ind., was buried Tuesday in the Huntington cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Berger attended the funeral services.

Elmer Berger is the general manager of the Henry Pratt Company, Dixon.

Six Autos Collide in Freak Crash Wednesday

A six-car accident Wednesday morning near the Whitehead County Home caused an estimated $2,100 damage but resulted in a bump on the head to a 14-year-old boy.

Joseph E. Walezhk, 24, Chicago, was arrested by State Police Sgt. Ray Cramer, Sterling, for following a car too closely and for driving in the wrong lane of traffic.

According to Sgt. Cramer, who described the wreck as the oddest he had ever seen, William DeGroot, 71, Rt. 2, Dixon, started the chain of events by pulling his westbound car partially off the highway.

John M. Buckley, 66, 912 Galena Ave., Dixon, who was also westbound, slowed down to almost a stop when he saw the DeGroot car half off the highway.

Walezhk, also westbound, was towing a 1951 Chevrolet in back of his own car and started to pull around the Buckley car but pulled back into his own lane when he saw a car driven by Richard Vonderland, 34, Morrison, traveling east.

The car Walezhk was towing didn't come entirely back into the westbound lane, however, and was struck by the Vonderland car.

The impact caused the Walezhk car to go out of control and smash into the back of the Buckley car, knocking it into the eastbound lane.

Don R. Lee, 23, Morrison, whose son, Robert Lee, suffered the bump on the head, was traveling east and sideswiped the Buckley car as it was knocked into his lane.

The sixth car involved in the freak accident, driven by Albert Fritz, 26, Morrison, and following the Lee car also hit the Buckley car as it caromed off the Lee vehicle.

Dixon Firemen Answer Alarms

The Dixon fire department answered two alarms, a car fire Tuesday evening and a report of wires down early this morning.

The first alarm was turned in at 7:10 p. m. Tuesday by Loren Garren, 708 Lincoln Ave., Dixon, who reported his car was on fire at 1516 Third street. Only minor damage was reported and the fire was apparently caused by the battery cable shorting out.

The second alarm, turned in at 2 a. m. today, sent firemen to the 1300 block of Christiana Terrace on a report that some wires were down.

Fire Chief Gail Keyser reported that the fire department and the police stood by until the Public Service company fixed the wires. The regular service wires led to the factory area and were reportedly broken by a falling tree limb.

Ancient Autos Will Roll in Grand Detour

GRAND DETOUR — (Special) — Old fashioned automobiles again will roll through the streets of Grand Detour Sunday when Illinois and Wisconsin members of the Antique Automobile Club of America climax their fall tour with a visit to the John Deere homestead.

The three-day "Fall Foliage Tour" begins Friday at Delavan, Wis. Tour members will spend the first night in Madison, Wis., and tour Apple River Canyon State Park Saturday.

They'll spend Saturday night in Freeport, and drive to Grand Detour by way of White Pines State Park Sunday. The caravan is scheduled to arrive here at 11 a. m., and drivers will have lunch at Dead End Inn. The group then will disband.

Sues to Collect Unpaid Balance For Truck Firm

Charles M. Ramsey, Rt. 4, Dixon, Wednesday filed a $945.61 breach of contract suit against David Pearson, 1313 Palmyra Ave., Dixon, in the Lee County Circuit Clerk's office.

Ramsey charges he sold the Charles M. Ramsey Transfer Company to Pearson Aug. 2, 1952, for $4,500, which after the down payments was to be paid in 20 weekly installments.

Ramsey said also that an $150 insurance policy and a $100 truck was to be paid for in weekly payments. Ramsey charges there is an unpaid balance of $695.61 plus the insurance and truck bills.

WORLD BRIEFS

IZMIT, Turkey (AP)—Five school children were killed and three seriously injured Wednesday when a hand grenade they had found exploded as they played with it.

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—Israeli officials said today that an Israeli settler was killed and a second wounded by automatic fire while they were inspecting their fields near the Jordan armistice lines, Wednesday. An army spokesman charged that in a second incident automatic fire was directed at an Israeli patrol from Egyptian positions across the Gaza strip.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Three thousand school children made a government change its mind today.

The kids wanted their ration of milk with colored flavoured—the way they got it until a few days ago. They refused to drink it white. Health Minister Maurice O'Sullivan told the State Parliament today the new regulation would be waived immediately.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A former Swedish diplomat who represented the United States in Berlin during the last war shot his wife to death today and then killed himself, police authorities said.

Count Adolph von Rosen, 56, and his wife Barbro, 43, were found dead on the floor of their luxurious home.

BALBOA, C. Z. (AP)—A S. air-lift of relief supplies for flood-ravaged northwest Honduras was swung into full operation today. One report said between 1,000 and 2,000 flood victims were marooned on rooftops and in trees. The floods are a result of heavy rains which have lashed Honduras without let-up since hurricane Gilda struck Monday.

Stork Flies High

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—According to the trend of birth registrations the state health department says 1954 will top even the record 1953 high of 181,518 births. 87,915 births were registered, an increase of 6,012 over the same period last year.

World Series Craze Is Explained to Mars Men

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Memo to a man from Mars:
Sorry we missed seeing you yesterday. Normally we'd have heard you tapping on the office door, even though your tentacles don't make as much noise as human knuckles. But the television set was going full blast so we saw none of us wanted to miss the World Series opener.

The World Series—maybe we'd better tell you about that, since you're down here studying human behavior. The World Series is—well, call it a sort of nervous breakdown that we have at this time of year.

Serious Ailment

It's a serious ailment. It just about brings the United States to a standstill. People forget about politics, about world affairs. Nobody argues about Joe McCarthy.

Joe McCarthy, we ought to explain, used to manage the New York Yankees. They took part in the World Series, too, in happier days. Fortunately, perhaps, this temporary insanity of ours doesn't last long. It usually runs its course in a week or less. Then everybody goes back to work, except sometimes the manager of the losing team.

This year the contest is between the New York Giants of the National League and the Cleveland Indians of the American League. The Giants are not especially big men and the Indians are not really Indians. For that matter the Polo Grounds, where the series opened, is not noted for Polo.

Giants Managers

The Giants are managed by Leo Durocher, Laime Day, Tailuath Bankhead and a New York restaurant keeper named Toots Shor. The Indians are managed by Al Lopez and about half the population of Cuyahoga County, Ohio.

Ball players play ball because they love the sport, though sometimes for the sake of their families they accept token salaries. Some of these token salaries rank right along with the take-home pay of the president of the United States. Besides riches, ball players aspire to two things: Getting elected to the baseball hall of fame, and marrying Marilyn Monroe.

Baseball is the great American game, but during the season millions of Americans can take it or leave it alone. Come series time, though, everybody's a fan—and an expert. People who normally would as soon kiss their mother-in-law as shell out $2 for a ticket are packed right in there around the TV screen screaming.

Why? You tell us, man from Mars. We're a warm-hearted, clever, childlike people. But we never claimed that we made sense.

Use Torches To Free 800 Ship Bodies

HAKODATE, Japan (AP)—Japanese divers using torches borrowed from the U.S. Army, today cut a gaping hole in the capsized ferry Toya Maru to speed recovery of more than 800 bodies, including about 40 Americans.

Three bodies brought out shortly afterward were identified by Japanese officials as Sgt. 1/C James E. Huey Jr. of Bridgefield, Pa.; Sgt. Willard B. Batchelder of Brockton, Mass., and Pfc Melvin K. Day of Sudham, Okla.

Until American equipment arrived, divers groping through murky water inside the hull had brought up only 64 bodies in three days.

Rescue headquarters said less than 200 of more than 1,300 aboard the Toya Maru are known to have survived.

The typhoon toll in dead and missing totals more than 1,500 from sinkings, fires, landslides, floods.

U. S. Army officials said 60 Americans—soldiers, airmen, dependents and civilian employees—were aboard the Toya Maru. Only one soldier and the Japanese wife of another are among the survivors.

OLD ONES

Man-eating tigers usually are old and no longer able to catch forest game for sustenance. Once they find how easy it is to kill men, they never stop.

Decision in Month

Mrs. Andrews testified at a merit system council hearing on her appeal for restoration to her $329 a month post. The case was taken under advisement by hearing officer Anthony Manuele of Springfield who said a decision probably would be ready within a month.

Mrs. Andrews, employed by the Illinois Public Aid Commission since 1944, was fired last June after five years in the county superintendent's post. She was dismissed on grounds of negligence and inefficiency.

County welfare superintendents are county agents of the IPAC, and are selected by merit system examination. They are in charge of "visitors" who deal directly with applicants for aid. Mrs. Andrews was a visitor before her advancement in 1949.

On Probation

The chief witness against Mrs. Andrews was Miss Crystal Cranston of Kewanee, her supervisor since December, 1952.

Miss Cranston said she evaluated the superintendent's work at the end of 1953, found it "questionable" and placed her on probation for three months.

"I discussed it with her," Miss Cranston said. "I hadn't given up that Mrs. Andrews would perform on the job. She hadn't but I hoped she would. I took into consideration that she had four years of service."

Miss Cranston said that Mrs. Andrews' performance "regressed" during the probationary period and that after it was over the county superintendent "took less responsibility in making decisions."

A bill of particulars by Atty. Gen. Latham Castle supporting the discharge order alleged ignorance of IPAC policies and procedures, failure to exercise supervisory authority and unrecorded absenteeism.

Bullied, She Says

Mrs. Andrews said she was "bullied and intimidated" by Miss Cranston. "I think it was a personality clash," she said.

Two IPAC field service men testified Mrs. Andrews was given the option, after the probationary period of resigning or being fired. They said that she expressed relief at the prospect of being separated from her responsibilities, but refused to resign.

The IPAC field men were Harold U. Shank, assistant chief of the IPAC field operations division and

Bureau County Welfare Worker Fights Dismissal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A Bureau county welfare superintendent fighting dismissal testified Wednesday that an aide of Gov. Stratton threatened to "get me out."

Mrs. Dorothy O. Andrews, 59, of Princeton, said that Joseph D. Carey, one of Stratton's administrative assistants, "told me they had someone else for my job and were going to get me out of it." Carey, whose home is in Seatonville, Bureau county, was vacationing and could not be reached for comment.

Decision in Month

Mrs. Andrews testified at a merit system council hearing on her appeal for restoration to her $329 a month post. The case was taken under advisement by hearing officer Anthony Manuele of Springfield who said a decision probably would be ready within a month.

Mrs. Andrews, employed by the Illinois Public Aid Commission since 1944, was fired last June after five years in the county superintendent's post. She was dismissed on grounds of negligence and inefficiency.

County welfare superintendents are county agents of the IPAC, and are selected by merit system examination. They are in charge of "visitors" who deal directly with applicants for aid. Mrs. Andrews was a visitor before her advancement in 1949.

On Probation

The chief witness against Mrs. Andrews was Miss Crystal Cranston of Kewanee, her supervisor since December, 1952.

Miss Cranston said she evaluated the superintendent's work at the end of 1953, found it "questionable" and placed her on probation for three months.

"I discussed it with her," Miss Cranston said. "I hadn't given up that Mrs. Andrews would perform on the job. She hadn't but I hoped she would. I took into consideration that she had four years of service."

Miss Cranston said that Mrs. Andrews' performance "regressed" during the probationary period and that after it was over the county superintendent "took less responsibility in making decisions."

A bill of particulars by Atty. Gen. Latham Castle supporting the discharge order alleged ignorance of IPAC policies and procedures, failure to exercise supervisory authority and unrecorded absenteeism.

Forges Check From Jail Cell

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—Wilford Devens, 29, Mankato, was charged with second degree forgery Wednesday after making out a false check for $110 in his jail cell and having it cashed.

Police said Devens gave the check to a prisoner in an adjoining cell, who cashed it after the man was freed from a drunkenness charge. Devens denied the charge until the officers said they found the $100 cash proceeds hidden under a jail wash basin.

The innocent cashier of the check paid $10 for his trouble by Devens, was not held. Devens had been in jail for investigation of bad check dealings.

Durocher Sends Antonelli After No. Two

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes draped the fourth pinch home run in all world series history into the Polo Grounds right field stands Wednesday to wrap up the 10-inning opener for the underdog New York Giants 5-2.

The Giants today were in an advantageous position. They have the fully rested Johnny Antonelli, a 21-game winner, poised for a second thrust at the Cleveland Indians today.

Bob Lemon, one of the Indians' two 23-game winners absorbed Wednesday's defeat. Early Wynn, the other big winner, was Manager Al Lopez's choice for the second game. Another capacity crowd, matching Wednesday's 52,571 turnout, was expected.

No Shorter Homer
No shorter homerun can be hit in any ball park than Rhodes' 270-footer that a fan muffed only inches above the green barrier.

But it also is a fact that the slugging Indians had the same target. Of deep satisfaction to Leo Durocher's club was the manner in which their relief star, the veteran Marv Grissom, walked in there to stop the Tribe in its tracks after their starter, Sal Maglie, suddenly left his 37 years in the eighth inning and his reliever, Don Liddle, had been clouted for one of the longest and most sensational putouts ever seen anywhere.

And last, but far from least it was their wonder boy, Willie Mays, who saved the game with his truly amazing over-shoulder catch of Vic Wertz towering 450-foot smash to the centerfield wall with two Indians on base and none out in the eighth.

Gave Rhodes Chance
The boy from Alabama didn't get a hit off Lemon. But he gave notice that he will be a telling factor all the way with that catch and his steal of second after Lemon had walked him with one out in the 10th. The steal caused the Indian ace to pass Hank Thompson purposely to set up a possible double play, and that gave Durocher the opportunity to insert the left swinging Rhodes for Monte Irvin.

The best Irvin had been able to do in four tries was lay down a sacrifice bunt.
The record crowd of 52,571 gave Dusty a nice ovation, and the next thing anyone knew that lazy little fly was being boosted along by the wind toward its destiny.

Robbed Hogan
The ironic part of it was that the same wind, blowing with some velocity across the field from left to right, almost surely robbed Jim Rigan, Cleveland's catcher, of a bases-loaded home run off Grissom in the eighth inning, and also blew one back off Al Darr's bat that would have given the Giants a 3-2 win after two were down in the ninth. Both knocks clearly were headed for the seats when they set out.

From the very start it was evident that Maglie was short on control. His first three pitches to the Indians' leadoff batter, Al Smith, were not even close, and the fourth one plunked Smith.

Bobby Avila, the American League's leading hitter, followed with a leaping single into short right which Don Mueller kicked around, permitting Smith to race to third. However, Sal steered and got Larry Doby and Al Rosen on popups, and that brought up Vic Wertz, the Tribe first-baseman.

Fail On Big Hit
Vic bounced one off the centerfield wall and by the time it came back he was perched on third and two runs were across—the only runs the Indians were destined to get, despite the fact that Wertz slashed a double and two singles and nearly chased Mays out of the park on his next four tries.

The Giants got them back off Lemon in the third, when the top of their order, led by Whitey Lockman, delivered three clean singles and drew a walk to push two scores across with only one away.

But that was all. Irvin struck out, and little Davey Williams, rolled to short.

From that point on until Rhodes finally got his chance, it was a question of one team and then the other threatening but failing to get the big hit. In all, the Indians stranded 13, the Giants 9.

Based on their showing in their two non-conference openers, the Warriors are regarded as the team to beat this season. Sterling can be expected to enter Dixon confident of moving through its first conference game without incident.

But the Dukes assumedly have other plans for the Warriors. Beaten twice in their first two outings, the Dukes have been working on the mistakes that have cost them a 14-7 decision to Champaign and a 12-6 loss to West Rockford.

Three Game Edge
Available records show that in 56 meetings since 1889, Sterling holds a three game edge with Dixon winning 22 games while Sterling has won 25. Nine games have ended in ties.

But Dixon has not beaten Sterling since 1943, when the Dukes turned the trick to a 26-0 game. Since then, Sterling has won nine games while one ended in a 13-13 tie in 1952.

In their first two games, the Warriors have racked up 72 points while keeping their own goal-line unmarked. Sterling romped past Newman of Sterling, 39-0 and topped Rock Falls, 33-0, to win the Twin-City title. A victory over Dixon would give the Warriors the Rock River Valley title, a mythical crown.

As in the past, form charts are not expected to mean much in this game which pits traditional rivals.

Hall At DeKalb
In the other Northeast game, defending champion Hall Township travels to DeKalb where the Barbs are regarded as a promising club that could sweep up the marble this year or be the team to beat in 1955.

The Barbs tripped Marmion Military Academy, 18-6, in their opener and then were held to a 6-6 tie by West Aurora last week. Hall, meanwhile, got past Normal, 7-0, in its opener and then was crumpled by Mendota, 26-0, last week.

In the Southwest, Rochelle, rated the team with the best chance to catch with Mendota, visits Princeton. The Hubs, with Bob Dettig running wild in their past two games, beat Batavia, 27-0 and Harlem of Rockford, 32-0, Princeton, meanwhile, a surprise so far, rapped Walnut, 54-14, in its opener and then pounded on Limestone of Peoria, 33-19.

Rock Falls, licking its wounds from last week's humiliation at the hands of Sterling, entertains Geneseo. Both teams have 1-1 non-conference records. Rock Falls bested Savanna, 14-0, before meeting Sterling and Geneseo tripping Monmouth, 7-6, before losing to Aledo, 20-0.

Ohio Host to Malden in 3rd Little 8 Game
OHIO—(Special)—A pair of invictious teams clash here Friday night when the Ohio Bulldogs entertain Malden in a Little Eight conference eight-man football test.

One of the two teams is sure to get out of the cellar, at least for the time being after this game.

Catch Wasn't Greatest; Mays: Rhodes Back on Bench

NEW YORK (AP)—Was that the greatest catch of his young career that Willie Mays made on Vic Wertz in the New York Giants' 5-2 opening world series victory Wednesday.

"Now," said the happy-go-lucky Willie in the dressing room later. "I had the ball all the way. There was nothing too hard about it. Maybe it did save the game, but you should never miss those kind. I've made better catches. But what about my hitting? I wasn't any help up there at the plate."

It was in the eighth inning with two men on base that Mays raced back to the Polo Grounds center field wall to grab Wertz' extra base bid with his back to the plate.

Not Real Sharp
"Just a regular game for us," shrugged Johnny Antonelli facetiously. "We won the pennant with finishes like this all season long."

He was referring, of course, to Dusty Rhodes' 10th inning, two-on-base home run.

Starting pitcher Sal Maglie who left the premises just before Mays made his great catch, told newsmen: "I didn't have real sharp control of my curve ball, so I couldn't hit the outside corner against the left-handers. That's what got me in trouble."

"And that Wertz. The way he was hitting today you couldn't get

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland fans, shake heads! The Indians dropped the first game of the 1948 World Series and trailed 1-2 in games in 1920. But they came back to win both.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Leo says he'll use me where he thinks I'll help most, but I say all there is to baseball is hitting and if I couldn't hit I wouldn't have any fun."

James (Dusty) Rhodes was speaking. The Alabama boy's dramatic pinch homer with two on and one out in the 10th gave the New York Giants their 5-2 triumph over Cleveland in the first game of the world series.

The homer was only the fourth such pinch hit in series history and was the first by a player who never before had been at bat in a series game. And it came on the first pitch.

"Best Hit Ever"
Rhodes basked in the limelight of the noisy clubhouse after the game. He was propped up on a rubbing table, taking long swigs on a can of beer and telling everyone that it was a curve ball, a little low and "the best hit I ever got in my life."

"I was just swinging for a hit," he said. "I wasn't trying for a homer."

Rhodes is a rascular, red-faced 27-year-old who came up to the Giants from Nashville in 1952.

Pressure on Pitcher
His wife, Mae, "she wasn't a baseball fan till she married me," and his two sons, Dusty and Ronny, were on hand for his big day.

Somebody asked him if he found it harder to come up as a pinch hitter than as a regular member of the lineup.

"Not at all," was the quick reply. "This way the pressure's on the pitcher. He knows I'm up there to hit and he has to try to get me out."

Wednesday's was the 26th extra-inning game in World Series history. The first was in 1907 when the Chicago Cubs and Detroit went 12 innings and the 25th was the 11-inning Yankee-Dodger fourth game in 1952.

League Action Opens Friday In Blackhawk

HOWARD STOKER, DHS TICKET MANAGER, today reported that there are still a few reserved seat tickets available for Friday nights game here between Dixon and Sterling. However, there will be no advance sale. Stoker said. Tickets will go on sale at 5:45 p.m. Friday when the box office opens at the stadium.

And now for the more serious business at hand. That of drawing names out of a hat and labeling them as my predictions. Surprisingly enough, last week wasn't as bad as anticipated. I still managed to keep my average above the .700 mark. The form sheet last week showed nine correct selections, four errors and one tie. That gives me a 21-8-1 record for the first two weeks of action or a .724 average.

STERLING OVER DIXON: We doubt that Dixon's "blocking" backs have overcome enough trouble to score often enough on Sterling. The Dixon defense should be able to keep it relatively close.

ROCHELLE OVER PRINCETON: Both are undefeated but we doubt that the Tigers have met the likes of Rochelle yet.

AMBOY OVER SAVANNA: This is the last time we are going to string along with the Clippers if they fail us again. It hurts the old average.

POLO OVER MILLEDGEVILLE: The Marcos are champing at the bit to return to the grid wars. That makes it a tough way for the Millies to open conference play.

OREGON OVER LANARK: The Hawks are getting closer to their own clinic. Should be a romp for the Oregonians.

MT. MORRIS OVER MT. CARROLL: A close one here but I like the Mounters in the tough ones.

BYRON OVER ASHTON: Could be another close one and an upset wouldn't surprise. But Byron is the team to beat this year and the Aces must prove themselves.

OHIO OVER MALDEN: The Bulldogs get their best chance for victory.

WALNUT OVER GALVA: What has been happening to Walnut should come to a halt this week.

OTHER GAMES: DeKalb over Hall; Rock Falls over Geneseo; Mendota over Ottawas; DeWitt over Morrison; Fulton over Newman; St. Mary's over Bettendorf; Winnebago over Leaf River; Stillman Valley over Monroe Center; Tiskilwa over Bureau; Manlius over Neponset; Sheffield over Buda; LaMoille over Wyanet.

Byron at Ashton Friday In Top Route 72 Game

ASHTON—(Special)—In what could be the turning point in the Route 72 conference six-man football season, the Ashton Aces play host to the Byron Tigers here Friday.

Byron, undefeated in two outings, had a close brush last week against Leaf River. The Tigers needed three touchdowns engineered by quarterback Allen Cain in the final quarter to overcome the Leaf River sextet, 39-31.

This gave rise to speculation at Ashton where the Aces, beaten in their first outing by Stillman Valley when three fumbles in the final quarter in their own territory cost the Aces their only defeat.

But the Aces bounced back in the second game, beating Monroe Center, 26-14, in a game considered an upset in some circles.

If the Aces win Friday, they could knock Byron out of first place. Right behind Byron is Stillman Valley which has won its only game to date.

Stillman travels to Kirkland Friday to take on Monroe Center. In

Woodson Is Out With an Ankle Injury

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest football briefs:

ILLINOIS—Mickey Bates may be switched from fullback to his old right halfback spot for the Stanford encounter . . . Sophomore Abe Woodson, right half, is sidelined with an ankle injury . . . Bob Wiman may be the new fullback . . .

NORTHWESTERN—Two first stringers, fullback Bob Lauter and quarterback John Rearden, returned to action after a two-day absence with the flu . . .

IOWA—Eddie Vincent and Jim Freeman intercepted numerous throws in a pass defense practice . . .

WISCONSIN—The Badgers were forced to practice in the mud for the second day in a row . . . But a wet ball failed to bother quarterbacks Jim Haluska and Jim Miller who regularly hit their targets in a passing drill . . .

MICHIGAN STATE—Spartan backs were given a special ball-handling workout to ward off fumbling . . . Jim Hinesly, junior end, is recovering from a foot injury and tackle Randy Schreengost's hand infection is clearing up . . .

INDIANA—George Beil, a junior, has been moved into the No. 1 halfback spot to replace injury-benched Dom Domenic . . . Charley Lee, 209-pound sophomore from Niagara Falls, N. Y., was picked to start at right guard . . .

MINNESOTA—Jim Sollau, first string end, hurt a shoulder during a heavy contact drill but is expected to be ready for Pittsburgh.

Oregon, beaten twice in contests against Shark conference teams, 20-6 by Hononegah, and 32-0 by South Beloit, stands a good chance to open the long season successfully. Lanark lost its only game, 32-0 to Fulton.

But the key game in the opening round probably will be fought at Mt. Carroll where Mt. Morris and the best team both have 1-1 records and last year shared the runner-up spot. Mt. Morris beat West Rockford's JV team, 24-0, but lost to Hononegah, 14-7. Mt. Carroll beat Stockton, 19-12, but lost to East Dubuque, 6-2.

Clippers in Quest Of First Victory

For the third straight week, the Amboy Clippers make a bid to win their first Illowa conference game since being admitted to the league. This time the Clippers try Savanna in a game Friday night.

In two previous games, Amboy has lost decisions to St. Mary's of Clinton (27-14) and to Morrison (27-6). Savanna has played one conference game and lost it to Bettendorf, Ia., 13-0. In a non-conference game to open the season, Savanna lost a 14-0 test at Rock Falls. Savanna has been without its fullback, Charlie Ferris, since the first game when Ferris suffered a broken collarbone.

On other conference games, league leading DeWitt and St. Mary's, both with 2-0 records, shoot for number three. DeWitt is at home to Morrison, winner of its lone league game to date, and St. Mary's entertains Bettendorf in a Saturday test. Newman of Sterling, beaten once in the conference, travels to Fulton, winner in its opener.

Bobby Avila of the Indians had the edge over the Giants' Willie Mays in the battle of batting champions. Avila had one hit to none for Willie.

As in the past, form charts are not expected to mean much in this game which pits traditional rivals.

Hall At DeKalb
In the other Northeast game, defending champion Hall Township travels to DeKalb where the Barbs are regarded as a promising club that could sweep up the marble this year or be the team to beat in 1955.

The Barbs tripped Marmion Military Academy, 18-6, in their opener and then were held to a 6-6 tie by West Aurora last week. Hall, meanwhile, got past Normal, 7-0, in its opener and then was crumpled by Mendota, 26-0, last week.

In the Southwest, Rochelle, rated the team with the best chance to catch with Mendota, visits Princeton. The Hubs, with Bob Dettig running wild in their past two games, beat Batavia, 27-0 and Harlem of Rockford, 32-0, Princeton, meanwhile, a surprise so far, rapped Walnut, 54-14, in its opener and then pounded on Limestone of Peoria, 33-19.

Rock Falls, licking its wounds from last week's humiliation at the hands of Sterling, entertains Geneseo. Both teams have 1-1 non-conference records. Rock Falls bested Savanna, 14-0, before meeting Sterling and Geneseo tripping Monmouth, 7-6, before losing to Aledo, 20-0.

Ohio Host to Malden in 3rd Little 8 Game
OHIO—(Special)—A pair of invictious teams clash here Friday night when the Ohio Bulldogs entertain Malden in a Little Eight conference eight-man football test.

One of the two teams is sure to get out of the cellar, at least for the time being after this game.

Army Steps Up Its Readiness

Orders Guided Missiles; Activates New Divisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is adding a new long range guided missile to its arsenal, increasing the number of its combat-equipped divisions and buying more tanks.

This stepped-up Army tempo was disclosed in a series of announcements here Wednesday—the day after a conference in Colorado among President Eisenhower, Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the Army's chief of staff.

1 The Army has gone into limited production of a new guided missile called Redstone. The weapon is presumably capable, like others of its type, of carrying an atomic warhead. Details of Redstone are secret, but there is speculation its range may be up to 500 miles.

Start Production

The Army said it awarded to Chrysler Corp. last week an $855,000 contract to start "limited production" of Redstone. This brings the total for the Redstone project so far to more than 22 million dollars.

2. In a move which will add to its organization numbers, although not to its total manpower, the Army announced a program to boost the number of divisions designated as combat outfits to 24 in the next two years. This will be done by giving to five of the present six training divisions designations as combat divisions, equipping them with arms for battle-field fighting and organizing them along combat lines.

But the manpower size of the divisions apparently will remain, at least for some time, at about the level of a training division—which is only between 10 and 15 per cent of the man-strength of a 17,500-man combat division.

New Rotating Plan

Aside from giving the Army the framework for a quick expansion of the five divisions into full fighting strength, the program also makes possible another program announced simultaneously—a new system of rotating forces stationed overseas. This will involve return home of whole units—divisions, regiments or battalions—replaced overseas by units of similar composition. The current plan of rotating individual soldiers while still keeping the units on station will be superseded. Each unit will serve 33 months overseas, stay 31 months at home.

3. A contract for $160,601,200 worth of M48 medium tanks was placed with Chrysler Corp. This actually is a renewal of an earlier order for M48s, the initial allotment of which Chrysler completed a year ago.

Sen. Douglas Claims Tax Cuts Unfair

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas says that in the new tax bill "The big corporations get the lion's share of the tax cuts, seven-eighths of the total."

Douglas spoke Wednesday night in St. Clair and Madison counties. He said, "Small business is left holding the bag just like the professions and those employed by others."

Speaking of stock dividend tax concessions in the new bill the Democrat incumbent said:

"The small business-man is almost never incorporated and has virtually all his capital tied up in the assets of his business—inventories, fixtures and the like. He has little surplus money floating around to invest in stocks. Thus, he gets nothing from special tax cuts on dividend income."

Douglas said the "big bonanza" of the new depreciation features of the bill "goes to the large corporations who spend millions on plant and equipment." The small business man, he said, gets only a few minor tax concessions out of the bill.

Because of their literary patrons, English coffee houses were once called "penny universities."

GOP Candidate Injured When Glass Shatters

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Bangert, Republican candidate for Congress from the First Missouri District, says his left eye was injured by flying glass from a shattered car window after an unknown assailant fired at him.

Bangert, who had seriously impaired vision in that eye, said the bullet shattered the left front window of his car Tuesday night.

Bangert, former mayor of suburban Berkeley City, previously had reported to the FBI the receipt about three weeks ago of a threatening letter from an anonymous source.

Mild-Appearing Husband To Die for Wife's Death

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A mild-appearing, white-haired 61-year-old man—whose three wives have died violently—will be sentenced to death here Monday.

George F. Sack, questioned by police about his first wife's death and found innocent by reason of insanity after his second wife's death, was convicted by an all-male jury here Wednesday night of murdering his third wife.

A death sentence is mandatory, but Sack's attorney said he would appeal.

Jury Out 7 Hours

The jury took seven hours to decide that the dapper, precise Sack did away with his wife because he feared she was going to divorce him and claim part of his $125,000 in property.

The state contended he did it by shoving her into the luggage compartment of his automobile last February and keeping her there until she suffocated. The body was found dumped in a vacant lot.

George Carr, who said he happened to be walking near the lot at the time, was the state's key witness. He said he saw a man carry something from a car into the lot. He wrote down the car's license number and turned it over to police. The number was Sack's.

Sack's first wife died in an apartment house fire in Chicago in the early 1920s. His second was killed a few years later in Chicago by a gun shot Sack was accused of killing her.

Defended By Darrow

Defended by the famed attorney, Clarence Darrow, Sack was found insane, and went to a mental hospital for several years.

He came to Oregon in 1940, and bought an apartment house, where he lived alone until he met Goldie Goodrich, 55, a Great Falls, Mont., school teacher, at a public dance hall here two years ago. They were married shortly afterward. Witnesses said it was not long until Sack was quarreling violently with her, and she began considering a divorce.

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving And Improving Hair

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Dixon, Illinois, Monday only, Oct. 4, 1954. These private, individual demonstrations will be held at the Nachusa Hotel on Monday only, Oct. 4, 2 p. m. to 9 p. m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 28—In an interview here today Dr. Russell Collins, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Collins Hair and Scalp Experts, Inc., said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

Guaranteed "The Collins firm recognizes that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads offer a guarantee," Collins said. "Once a person avails himself of the Collins treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this we offer this guarantee: 'If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned.'"

Hopeless Cases Discouraged First the Collins specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the hopeless cases are few. Only if a man is completely shiny bald is he in this last category.

If there is fuzz no matter how light thin or colorless, the Collins firm can perform wonders. Every one is given a complete private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

Free Examinations This examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Collins firm in Oklahoma City and a trichologist will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help the Collins firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

No Cure All "We have no cure all for slick, shiny baldness. Collins emphasizes: 'If there is fuzz the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle.'"

There is one thing Collins wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

Hair for Lifetime "If clients follow our directions during treatment and after they finish the course there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives." Collins said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment. It all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

How's Your Hair? "If it worries you call Trichologist K. C. Conner at the Nachusa Hotel in Dixon, Ill. on Monday only, Oct. 4, 2 p. m. to 9 p. m."

You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.—Adv.

CHRISTMAS IN SEPTEMBER—The days dwindle down to a precious few for the Cargill family of Bettendorf, Ia., as they help daughter, Linda, 7, celebrate Christmas with some of the gifts she received from well-wishers all over the nation. Linda is a leukemia victim who doctors say will not live until Dec. 25. Sharing Christmas happiness in September are (left to right) Linda; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cargill, and her brothers, Robert, 5, and Thomas, 2. (AP wirephoto)

September Christmas Brings Joy to Doomed 7-Year-Old

BETTENDORF, Iowa (AP)—"Merry Christmas, Linda," laughed the merry fellow in the bright red suit. "Merry Christmas!"

Christmas came early for young Linda Cargill because doctors don't expect the 7-year-old girl to live until Dec. 25. She is incurably ill of leukemia, they say.

The excitement of Christmas filled the small family home Wednesday night. If there were any tears among friends and neighbors they were carefully hidden.

The room was literally filled with packages and gifts from all over the country. The festivities centered around the gaily colored Christmas tree which Linda helped decorate.

Wearing a crisp, new pink dress and with a ribbon in her blonde hair, little Linda cried with joy when Santa Claus burst into the room.

Santa handed the frail child a lovely bird cage with a live parakeet inside.

"Oh, Santa, another bird!" she said.

Toys, candy, gifts galore were pulled from Santa's bulging pack.

One neighbor brought a doll for Linda's rapidly growing nursery. Another brought a cake with a doll resembling Linda on top.

"That looks like me," she beamed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cargill have not told Linda and her two brothers, Robert, 5, and Tommy, 2, that she will die. The early Christmas was explained by telling her she might be in the hospital when the real one comes.

Traffic Deaths Lowered

CHICAGO (AP)—Month by month your chance of coming back alive from an automobile trip is getting better.

The National Safety Council reported today that August was the eighth month in a row in which traffic deaths have been cut.

The safety streak means a saving of almost 1,500 lives. At the end of August 1953 traffic deaths totaled 24,200; the same time this year, they amounted to 22,780, a cut of 6 per cent.

August's toll of 3,330 was the lowest for the month since 1950 and a reduction of 10 per cent from August 1953.

"There is a real chance now to keep the record going for the remainder of the year," Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said. "The big danger now is the tricky fall season with its changing weather and earlier darkness."

One hundred eight cities reported no death records for the eight months.

Jenner Calls Editor a 'Renegade'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department said "no comment" today to a demand by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) that a treason charge be pressed against the former editor of a magazine in Red China.

Jenner Wednesday called John W. Powell, 35, now of San Francisco, "a renegade American." He sent the department a transcript of testimony before his Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Powell refused to tell the subcommittee Monday whether he is or was a Communist. Wednesday he told a news conference he wasn't a Communist but wouldn't say so under oath.

Jenner said Powell, in putting out the China Monthly Review, had "adhered to our enemies in (the Korean) wartime and given them substantial aid and comfort." Powell denied being a puppet editor for the Reds.

Daddy Barred From U. S., Dutch Lass Goes It Alone

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Inez de Koning admits that she doesn't exactly like living alone, but the 12-year-old Dutch girl says she manages to keep occupied enough to prevent boredom and loneliness.

Inez, who came to this country less than three years ago, has an apartment in a central Philadelphia hotel where she cooks and keeps house for herself, when she's not in school.

She has been living there, alone, since her father, Theodore de Koning, an electrical engineer, returned to The Netherlands for a visit more than a month ago and then found himself barred by immigration rules from immediate reentry to the United States.

Blonde, blue-eyed Inez had gone to camp for the summer. She got back on Aug. 21.

Makes Own Way
Since then, with Mrs. Agnes Allen, the hotel manager, keeping a motherly eye on her, Inez has made her own way. Inez is a "very independent and self-sustaining child," says Mrs. Allen.

The girl attends Friends Select school, a private institution run by the Quakers and has made many friends in her three school years.

She passes part of her time with them and devotes many hours to reading and studying.

Inez' father was in the United States for eight years, having entered on a first preference classification because his services were "urgently needed," by an American concern according to Henry Mullie, acting district director of the immigration and naturalization office here.

De Koning returned to Europe without "any knowledge on our part and even without the knowledge" of his employer, Mullie added.

Extension Rejected
An extension of the first preference classification was rejected, Mullie continued, because the "concern advised us" it was no longer interested in his services.

The director said de Koning could return to this country under a first preference classification if another American concern filed a petition for reentry. The first 50 per cent of a foreign country's immigration quota is reserved for first preference classifications. The other way de Koning could come back, said Mullie, would be under the regular quota system.

Convict Pair For Faking Cig Stamps

CHICAGO (AP)—Two tobacco dealers were convicted Wednesday of conspiracy to sell cigarettes bearing fake Illinois tax stamps.

They are Sam Garafolo, 49, former owner of the Villa Park Tobacco Co., and Chris Chiaramonte, 28, owner of the Christy Tobacco Co.

Both were arrested in November 1951 when the state cracked down on a counterfeit stamp racket believed to have cheated the state of 13 million dollars in taxes.

Police said they found cigarettes with counterfeit stamps in Chiaramonte's place. He said he got them from Garafolo's firm, located in suburban Villa Park.

The Criminal Court jury recommended prison sentences for both and, in addition, a $2,000 fine for Garafolo. Judge Leslie E. Salter set Oct. 14 for sentencing. The law provides imprisonment of one to five years.

Gun Duel Ends In Court Fines

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—Two Richmond men who duelled with pistols at close range Wednesday suffered only financially.

Police Chief Carl Newland said Mack Drivers and James White fired several shots at each other—less than four paces apart.

Both escaped bodily harm, but were fined $10 and costs for being drunk.

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (AP)—Cashier Curtis M. Brown thwarted two daring daylight attempts to rob the First National Bank here but says he can't be certain that the two would-be robbers were the same.

Stewing Chickens and Broilers Are Plentiful

CHICKEN WITH MACARONI, Italian style, is both a good family and party dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
From Washington, D. C., the United States Department of Agriculture reports that stewing chickens and broiler fryer chickens are now in tremendous supply all over the country.

Prices are reasonable for this high quality protein food. So we pass on a new family recipe from our friend Kathryn B. Niles, home economics director, Poultry and Egg National Board. "Many people have never heard of browning and crisping stewing chicken that has previously been cooked to tenderness in seasoned water. It makes the chicken even better," Miss Niles says.

Chicken With Macaroni, Italian Style

One ready-to-cook stewing chicken, cut-up stewed, seasoned flour, fat for browning, 1 package (8-ounce) macaroni, cooked and drained, 1 large clove garlic minced, 1/2 cup chicken fat butter or margarine, 1/2 cup minced fresh sweet basil or parsley, 1/4 teaspoon ground pepper, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Coat cooked chicken with seasoned flour (1 cup flour, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 teaspoon pepper and salt—amount of salt used will depend on salt used for stewing).

Place chicken in hot fat, turning to brown and crisp evenly. Meanwhile saute garlic in melted chicken fat butter or margarine until delicately browned. Add macaroni and remaining ingredients. Toss together lightly. Cover and heat gently stirring occasionally, for about 10 minutes. If necessary, add 1 tablespoon water to keep from sticking. Serve macaroni with the chicken.

Note: To stew chicken. Place chicken in heavy kettle. Add 1/2 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon salt for each pound of chicken. Cover. Simmer until fork-tender, about 3 hours. Remove chicken from broth.

Refrigerate broth promptly. Proceed with chicken as directed above.

Highway Employee Crushed to Death

KANSAS, Ill. (AP)—Lester Hall, 45, a state highway employee, was killed Wednesday when he was crushed between two trucks on Route 16 a mile west of Kansas. Hall, of Kansas, was flagging traffic near the scene of highway construction work when a truck pinned him against a parked highway truck.

Highway Produce

RED BANK, N. J. (AP)—There are enough signs on the Garden State Parkway to keep you from getting lost, but if you do you shouldn't starve. The north Jersey-shore superhighway boasts of peach and apple orchards in the center island and outer margins plus berries, mushrooms and vegetables.

Of course, unless you are lost and starving, picking berries and fruit is forbidden. A parkway official put it this way. The highway would become a desert in a short time if motorists were allowed to forage at will.

Windy Answer

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. John D. Versekas complained to the City Works Board that water was overflowing onto her property because leaves and twigs from an old tree were clogging a catch basin. Before the Board could get around to her complaint, up came a windstorm and down came the tree.

Neither Side Confident Of Massachusetts Vote

GOP Senator Saltonstall Faces Strong Opponent

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of several stories by roving Associated Press reporters analyzing the congressional campaign in key states.

By REILMAN MORIN

BOSTON (AP)—A tough election battle is building up in Massachusetts and at this point it looks so close that neither party is making any confident victory predictions. The Maine election heightened the Democrats and startled the Republicans.

Even though they interpret the Maine outcome as a sign of a "national tide" running their way, Massachusetts Democrats have been cautious in their claims for Nov. 2. Republicans, while discounting Democratic gains in Maine, are equally wary.

Deep Cut

Maine Democrats elected a governor for the first time in 20 years. They also cut deep into traditionally wide Republican margins in congressional races.

Chief interest in Massachusetts centers in the races for the governorship and a seat in the U. S. Senate. Both now are held by Republicans. The GOP has an 8-6 edge in the House. A Democratic leader would go no further than to say his party will make it 7-7 this fall.

In the Senate race, the veteran Leverett Saltonstall is opposed by a former Democratic congressman Foster Furcolo who has risen rapidly in Bay State politics since he came home from World War II.

"Salty" Campaigns

"Salty" as they call the senator in his home state, hit the trail early. Campaigning through the small towns he often simply stood on the sidewalk chatting with the citizens. He talked mainly of his nearly 10-year Senate record and the record of the Eisenhower administration.

Saltonstall has a dry down-East humor and a homespun manner that appeals to Massachusetts voters.

His present opponent Furcolo is 43, a lawyer who served one term in Congress and then was elected state treasurer in 1952—a year when Massachusetts went Republican. He is the son of an Italian immigrant who came to the United States unable to read or speak English and became a respected doctor in Springfield.

Worked in School

Furcolo worked his way through

The Dixon Evening Telegraph—Dixon, Illinois
Thursday, Sept. 30, 1954

Yale and the Yale Law School and still had time for the baseball and boxing teams. He resigned from a draft board after Pearl Harbor enlisted, and went through some of the worst campaigns in the Pacific.

While in Washington, Furcolo spoke on foreign policy and advocated federal scholarships for college students. He also devised what he called a "people's lobby," a council composed of his constituents with whom he conferred.

Furcolo is married and has five children. He is personable, a good speaker and a hard worker.

Early in the campaign he challenged Saltonstall to debate many issues, including labor, foreign policy and Sen. McCarthy. He said the people should know about Saltonstall's "failure to assume jurisdiction in Sen. McCarthy's case as chairman of the Armed Forces Committee in the issue of McCarthy versus the Army."

Republican Gov. Christian A. Herter was opposed for re-election. His Democratic challenger is Robert F. Murphy, a former Malden newspaperman and a veteran of the state legislature.

Neither side is over-optimistic about the congressional races. In 1952 narrow margins separated opponents in three districts. They look close again.

Six Prisoners Face Trial for Jail Rioting

CHICAGO (AP)—Six of seven prisoners accused of being ringleaders in a riot at Chicago's House of Correction face jury trials Oct. 7. The other agreed to have his case heard by Judge William V. Daily Friday. All have pleaded innocent to charges of destroying jail property.

About 1,000 prisoners rioted at the jail Saturday in protest over being served frankfurters for a third time in a week. During the three and a half hour riot the yelling mob wrecked furniture and broke windows.

Studies show the largest number of Texans are most comfortable in summer when temperature is 78 and humidity 50 per cent.

New Indochina Pact Is Drafted U. S., France Agree on Billion-Dollar Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and France evidently will put into immediate action a new billion-dollar program to bolster free Indochina against Communism.

The approval of congressional leaders, however, will be sought for some expenditures.

Agreement on the program was announced Wednesday night in a communique issued after three days' talks between top French and American officials.

The communique gave only general statements of determination "to support the complete independence of Cambodia, Laos and Viet Nam."

Main Provisions

It was learned from official sources that the main provisions of the program are:

1. France's 10-division force in Viet Nam will be systematically reduced. The aim is to get all French forces out by March, 1956, about four months prior to elections on whether the whole of Viet Nam will go Communist or not.
2. The withdrawal will be slow to allow time to train larger native forces which eventually will assume responsibility for the country's security. Native forces will be trained also in Laos and Cambodia.
3. Large quantities of military equipment, supplied by the United States to the French for fighting the Communists in Indochina, will be turned over to the native troops. Committed to Aid
4. The United States tentatively is committed to give financial aid to the Paris government for support of its forces in Indochina.
5. The United States will give

U. of Illinois Will Ask for More Funds

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1955 Legislature will be asked to increase the University of Illinois' biennial budget by $10,600,000.

University trustees in voting Wednesday to ask for this increase indicated $5,300,000 is intended to apply on salary increases.

The trustees acted after Floyd Morey, university president, told them salary scales at Illinois have not kept pace with those of other Big Ten schools.

The board also authorized contracts for building a 2 1/2 million dollar home economics building on the Champaign campus.

Board chairman H. B. Megran on Harvard said "an exhaustive search" is continuing for a president to succeed Morey, who will retire next year.

Airman Gets 18 Years for Slaying Wave

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—Carl Willis Strickland, 21, Navy airman, has been sentenced to 18 years in prison for the slaying of pretty Wave Irene Marian Conole.

A jury convicted the Rocky Mount, N. C., youth of second degree murder Wednesday night.

Miss Conole, like Strickland, had been stationed at the Patuxent Naval Air Test Center, and was to have married another sailor within a few weeks of the date she was found dead — May 29. Her home was Rochester, N. Y.

The Wave's battered body was found partly submerged on a lonely beach. She had been beaten with a soft drink bottle.

The defense offered no evidence and no testimony in the case.

Strickland, a slim six-footer with black wavy hair, admitted being with the girl the night of the slaying, but denied killing her. He said he last saw her on the beach in company with a hitch hiker he had picked up at her request.

Bed Can Go Soft

NAUGATUCK, Conn. (AP)—A mattress you can make as firm or as soft as you like has been perfected by a firm here. You sleep on a surface of foam rubber supported by an "envelope of air," joined to lateral cylinders of air," the firm says.

The firmness or softness is controlled by regulating the air pressure through a valve at the foot of the bed.

Red and Green Cabbage Blend Into Colorful Salad

PANAMINT CABBAGE SALAD of green and red cabbage is as tasty as it is colorful.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Here's a colorful crisp salad. We learned about it in Southern California where the Panamint Range with its startling colors suggested the idea of blending soft green cabbage, gaudy red cabbage and deep green Western pascal celery and golden carrots.

Panamint Cabbage Salad
(Makes 6 servings)
Two cups shredded green cabbage, 1 cup shredded red cabbage, 1 cup sliced celery, 1/2 cup shredded carrots, creamy French dressing.

Combine and toss in large salad bowl. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Creamy French Dressing
One small globe garlic, 1/2 tea-

September Passes Test For Business

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—September has passed with fair marks its test of providing the start of a "normal seasonal upturn." Now businessmen are eyeing October to see if it will produce, in higher production, increased sales and more jobs, in the way that September tentatively points.

Hopes aren't too high — none seems to be expecting a real boom. But signs today are good that the seasonal upturn is under way and that this fall, unlike last year's final quarter, will see business working steadily and healthily toward its Christmas peak.

New Orders
Steel, a basic industry, reports that orders are starting to come in now. Some mills say the orders are better than they had expected.

As a result production schedules are being stepped up. The steelmen are particularly cheerful because the new demand has come from outside the auto industry. They are expecting that big users of their products to come in shortly with orders for the new models the car makers are putting onto the production lines.

Purchases Increase
Industrial ordering, in general, increased this month, according to most purchasing agents. This should be translated into increased output in October.

Chemical companies who found business slow earlier in the summer, report that the turn for them came in August, with September continuing the trend. October orders are reported good.

Appliance makers are hoping for a good Christmas trade. Oil companies with their big gasoline selling season on the wane, are talking now mostly about prospects for 1955.

Sally Orchard, the Calamity Jane of New Mexico, was a stagecoach driver.

Leg of Lamb On Thrifty Shopper List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Leg of lamb will be the outstanding favorite as a special in the nation's food stores this weekend. Almost as popular as an attraction for thrifty shoppers will be frying chickens.

Meat specialists agree that leg of lamb is a first-rate buy. Prices will be down, anywhere from 4 to 10 cents a pound.

Frying chickens will be two to six cents a pound below week-ago prices. The Poultry and Egg National Board says wholesale prices of broiler-fryers are the lowest for this season since back in 1940.

There will be scattered specials on various cuts of beef and pork, round roast, prime ribs, steaks, smoked hams, fresh pork picnics and pork loin.

There was a dip in wholesale pork prices in mid-week, however, which led some meat buyers to predict that retail prices will be a bit lower within the next week. Some stores are selling items like pork chops at prices below last week's.

Egg prices are going up, as is usual at this time of year. One big chain expects to hike prices by a penny to as much as eight cents a dozen in its stores all over the country. Butter also is in an uptrend — increases of one to six cents a pound are expected this weekend. You'll find the usual good variety of vegetables available this week. Produce specialists suggest cauliflower, peppers, sweet potatoes, cabbage and potatoes as especially good values.

—Most women—those who are up-to-date—use informals. They are the correct thing and so much used in writing a note, regrets or invitation. You will find them at the B. F. Shaw Printing Co.

Out of Date

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Virginia State Ports Authority wants the U. S. Department of Agriculture to discuss the so-called Liverpool lard agreement with the British. It seems that the British some 35 years ago declared that if any meats went bad which were shipped in summer from a U. S. port south of Philadelphia the sellers would bear the loss. This risk not only limited summer shipments — U. S. American sellers used northern ports the year round rather than alternate. It gives the ports authority, modern refrigeration has made such a rule obsolete.

Smoggy Haul

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A thief broke a window screen on an office building, reached in, and grabbed for valuables. All he got, the Stanford Research Institute reported, was a notebook on smog control records — "flowmeter calibration charts."

SERVING YOU BETTER SAVING YOU MORE

Some People Are Allergic To---Money!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—Pickup items from a pavement Plato: It is not at all unusual for people to have an allergy to money, although generally it's the other way around—money seems to be allergic to us. What most of us seem allergic to is the fact we often get less money for a job than we feel we should. Some years ago I knew a young woman who actually suffered physical distress from handling money. Everytime she touched cash, her hands broke out in a rash. Ironically, she worked as a cashier. The only way she could keep the post was to wear white cotton gloves. Life was quite a problem to her until she met and married a well-to-do businessman. He gave her a big checking account, and that cured her hand rash almost overnight. Our odd notions about foreigners are equalled only by their odd notions about us. An Italian lady, who came to Long Island to live after marrying a former American army officer, recently returned to her homeland for a visit. She found the Italian children in her village wearing cowboy suits, and even some of the old folks tried to know how she guarded herself against Indian ambushes in the United States. Which came first—the chicken or the egg? Recently it puzzled the small daughter of a lady reader of this department, who forwarded her child's solution. "The chicken must have come first, mama," reasoned the child. "I can see how God could make a chicken—but I can't imagine him laying an egg."

CHICAGO (U)—Parents puzzled by their youngster's probing questions can get help from a new company, organized to deliver the answers to junior's scientific problems. Millard Deutsch was inspired to start it by his 8-year-old son's questions about the how's and why's of things like radio, machinery, health and weather. When his son wanted to know about radio, pop asked a big radio company for the answers. For weather, he consulted an instrument company. He arranged to distribute the answers so other kids could benefit. Five initial kits will be distributed by leading department stores. The kits deal with medical training, optical science and instruments, basic electronics, weather and geology. Each is sponsored by a firm which has business connected with the subject. They include booklets by leading scientists. Evaporation is a cooling process.

For a Tasty Hurry-up Meal Try 35-Minute Quickie

By GAYNOR MADDON

Pantry-shelf meals are popular with Mrs. W. Douglass of Baltimore. She has to feed a family of five—all active. So we asked her for her quick formula.

Here's one dinner menu that takes only 35 minutes of easy preparation.

Menu: Franks 'n' noodles, green beans, vinaigrette, fruited coleslaw, crusty rolls, blueberry crisp, coffee, milk.

The dessert takes longest to cook.

Blueberry Crisp
Drain 1 15-ounce can blueberries in heavy syrup, reserving 1/4 cup syrup. Place blueberries and 1/4 cup syrup in 8- or 9-inch pie plate. Sprinkle with mixture of 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg; dot with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until hot and bubbling. Keep warm until dessert time, serve with cream. (Note: If water-packed blueberries are used, increase brown sugar to 1/2 cup.)

Now the main dish

Franks 'n' Noodles
Brown 1 medium onion, chopped, in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in large frying pan. Add 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 1 No. 2 can tomato juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1/4 cup hot water; mix well. Add 1/2 of an 8-ounce package broad egg noodles and 1 can (about 12-ounce) frankfurters cut in thirds. Simmer, uncovered, 12 minutes, stirring often to prevent sticking.

Seek Pay Hike For Employees Of University

CHICAGO (U)—Trustees of the University of Illinois decided Wednesday to seek 10 per cent salary increases for nearly all its employees.

At its monthly meeting the board voted to seek additional funds from the next session of the General Assembly. If the move succeeds, the increases will take effect in June 1955.

Increased salaries were urged by Lloyd Morey, Illinois president, who reported that the institution has slipped in its ranking among Big Ten schools for compensation to academic employees.

Among the Western Conference Schools Illinois now ranks fourth in pay for professors, eighth for assistant professors, sixth for instructors, Morey said.

The president's proposal calls for increases to all teachers hired two or more years ago, to many hired in the last two years and to all non-teaching employees except craftsmen employed at union wage scales.

Provoo To Be Retried For Treason

BALTIMORE (U)—John David Provoo, former Army staff sergeant whose conviction and life sentence for treason were upset by the U. S. Court of Appeals, will be retried here, probably early next year.

A new warrant charging the 36-year-old former San Francisco bank clerk with treason while a prisoner of the Japanese in World War II, was issued here Wednesday.

U.S. Atty. George Cochran Doub, said he believes the government considers "this the most important treason trial since that of Aaron Burr."

In one of the weirdest cases to come out of World War II, Provoo was convicted Feb. 11, 1953, of broadcasting wartime propaganda for the Japanese, of abusing fellow American soldiers in prison camps and of causing the death of Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Iowa, by informing on him.

Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan sentenced him to life in prison. The U.S. District Court of Appeals in New York last Aug. 27 upset the conviction and sentence on the ground that Provoo should have been tried in Maryland where he was an Army prisoner at the time of his arrest on the treason charge. The Appeals Court also said the government wrongfully insinuated before the jury that Provoo was homosexual.

Eliminates Appeal
It left up to the government the choice of appealing to the Supreme Court or retrying Provoo in the Maryland District.

The issuance of the warrant Wednesday eliminated a Supreme Court appeal, Doub said.

The reversal cost the government a million dollars. With 69 witnesses—34 for the government, 35 for the defense—brought from all over the world, it cost the government that much to convict Provoo.

Doub said most of the witnesses probably would be recalled. Provoo denied aiding the Japanese except under pain of death.

Tin Shingles
SAWYER, Okla. (U)—T. F. Stinnett, a life-long do-it-yourself exponent has singled the roof and sides of his home and all his farm buildings with tin cans!

Stinnett said he used 18,000 quart motor oil cans for the project. He collected the discarded cans at service stations. They are processed into tin plate shingles in assembly-line fashion. A can opener-like gadget removes the top and bottom. The can is then split down the side and pressed flat.

Stinnett says his roof, covered 11 years ago, is as good as ever. He says he likes the cheerful appearance of his "tin can village." The only expenditure was for nails—one for each can.

Beef, Chicken, Cheese to Be Plentiful in October

By GAYNOR MADDOX

To keep the food budget happy, plan your menus around foods currently in abundant supply. They will be more reasonably priced than out-of-season foods or those in short supply.

Beef, chicken and cheese head the list of October plentiful foods. All are top sources of first-quality protein.

Here's the complete list (national) for October, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Beef
Haddock
Shrimp
Hens
Broilers and fryers
Turkeys
Cheese
Milk and other dairy products
Eggs
Vegetable shortenings
Salad oils
Rice
Snap beans are popular and available right through the year. The name "string beans" is no longer an accurate one. Snap beans, the modern name for this ever-popular vegetable, is much more correct. A fresh bean, when purchased, actually does crack with a resounding "snap" when it is broken.

Thinly sliced raw snap beans, diced onions and thin strips of raw carrots make a delicious health salad. Place the vegetables in a bed of crisp greens. Pass French dressing made with fresh lemon juice.

THE BID—John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, urged the members of the United Steelworkers to bolt the CIO and hinted he'd welcome them into his organization. Lewis' appeal to the CIO's second largest affiliate came in a telegram to the Steelworkers' convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

Relives Battles

ISLETA PUEBLO, N. M. (U)—Pablo Apache keeps looking for his uniform and waiting for his pension check—for service as a scout in the Indian wars and the Philippine Insurrection. Sometimes late at night, frail Pablo rouses his battle-scarred body for a vain search of the room where he rests—too old and too sick to take much interest in other things. He is an Apache Indian.

Mrs. Philip Lucero, his daughter, says Pablo's life is dimming after more than 100 years. He doesn't know his exact age.

He used to tell of battles against leaders of his people who had revolted against the whites. "He used to say Victorio was a great warrior," Mrs. Lucero recalls. "Geronimo, on the other hand, was just a renegade outlaw."

"I believe he is entitled to an Army pension," says Mrs. Lucero, "but I don't know how to go about getting it. When he becomes restless in the night, sometimes I go in there and he tells me he is looking for his uniform. He seems to be living in the past."

Hickory Salt Glamorizes Tasty Broiled Chicken

SPICY BROILED CHICKEN with hickory flavor can be cooked indoors as well as out.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Broiled chicken can have the smoky outdoor flavor people like even though cooked in the kitchen stove. We learned how to do this in Philadelphia the other day, talking with men learned in seasonings at the 100-year-old establishment of John Wagner & Sons.

Experts in fine peppers, herbs, spices, seeds and seasonings from faraway lands, these dignified men regard their use in cooking almost with reverence.

A very simple recipe, with roots in the Far East from which they imported their spices and teas, is a variation on the traditional broiling process. It offers the pungent, aromatic taste and flavor of a charcoal grill, with none of the hazards of wind, weather and smoke. In fact, it's outdoor cooking that is a lot easier indoors.

Into 1/2 cup of melted butter or margarine, dissolve 2 tablespoons of sugar. Coat the broiler well, and then season with hickory salt for the first application of heat. Broil slowly, alternating applications of powdered ginger and sugared butter or margarine. For final minutes of broiling, apply hickory salt again and ground pepper to create a smoky outdoor taste which blends beautifully with the Oriental flavor of the sugared ginger.

We have an oven-broiled chicken recipe in our house, inherited from a grandmother who lived in Rochester, N. Y.

Sprinkle each piece of chicken thoroughly with salt, pepper and paprika. Place a piece of butter or margarine on each and a little butter or margarine in bottom of roasting pan. Place chicken in pan, skin side up. Slice a small onion and spread over chicken. Cook in very slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Turn chicken and continue to cook. After 30 minutes, turn chicken again and cook for an hour and a half in all.

Make stock of onion and celery and add a little Worcestershire sauce. Baste chicken with this flavored stock every 20 minutes. Serve on hot platter with pan butter gravy poured over it. Delicious!

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Melon cup, oven-broiled chicken, stuffed baked potatoes, succotash (corn and lima beans), rolls, butter or margarine, sliced tomatoes with chopped green peppers, lemon meringue pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Serpent Love

MERIDEN, Conn. (P)—George Powell can't understand why people hate snakes so much. "None of God's creatures are more maligned or more misunderstood than snakes," he says. "People think they are slimy; they're not. They are dry and scaly."

"People think snakes go out of their way to attack human beings. No such thing," says Powell. "Some North American snakes will fight if cornered, but they are looking for a chance to get away fast." Powell has five snakes as pets—three rattlers and two copperheads.

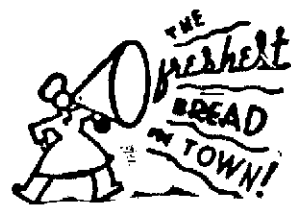

Doll Casualty

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (P)—Mrs. Marvin Robertson turned on the broiler of her stove to warm the oven and walked into her garden. A few minutes later she was calling the fire department. Three trucks and a dozen men responded. They were too late. A doll which Garland Robertson, 16 months, had placed in the stove had gone up in smoke that alarmed Mrs. Robertson as it poured from windows and doors.

Unreported Crime

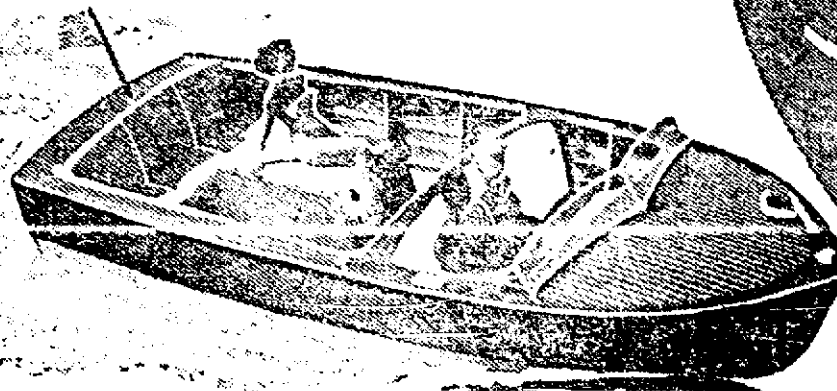

VENTURA, Calif. (P)—A motorcycle officer discovered a theft but couldn't report it by radio. Someone had stolen the microphone from his motorcycle.
